Head of State Board of Arbitration and Conciliation in Lowell Today in Connection With Mill Strike

General Agent Knight Will Endeavor to Bring About a Conference Between Mill Agents and Operatives—Visitor Meets Official Leader of Textile Strike—Strikers Are Willing to Confer With Mill Officials at Any Time

The first steps toward a settlement of the strike at the Hamilton Mfg. Co. and the Bay State Cotton Corp., which went into effect last Monday morning as a result of the posting of notices of a 20 per cent reduction at the Hamilton and 16 and 20 per cent at the Bay State, were taken this afternoon when Fred M. Knight, general agent of the state board of conciliation and arbitration, visited this city in an attempt to bring about a conference between mill officials and operatives. Mr. Knight's visit to this city is a result of an official notification of the strike to the board he represents, made yesterday by Mayor George H. Brown, as provided for in section 3, chapter 160 of the general laws.

Mr. Knight arrived in this city shortly after 12 o'clock this afternoon and went directly to the headquarters of the United Textile Workers of America in Central street, where he met John Hanley, a member of the executive board of the U.T.W. of A., who is the official leader of the local strike. The two men conferred at length on the local situation, Mr. Han-

FINGER MARKS ON THROAT

Frozen Body of Young Woman Found in Snow at Camden, New Jersey

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 17.—The frozen body of a young woman bearing the imprint of fingers on the throat, was found today 20 feet from the driveway that leads from the Kaighn avenue bridge over the Cooper creek to Forest Hill park, this city. Tracks of an automobile and the footprints of two men were discernible in the hard crusted snow leading from the spot where the body was found, to the driveway.

The body was found by a lamptrimmer employed by the Public Service corporation. The woman was about 20 years old and good looking. The body was dressed in "second mourning" costume. The feet were encased in high tan shoes, and the hat the woman wore was made of light, soft material in sport style, giving a mannish appearance, was found nearby. There was no evidence of a struggle.

NO FURTHER CHANGES EXPECTED IN LOWELL CHARTER THIS YEAR

Committee on Cities Gives Hearing on Proposed Changes, Including Recall Provision and Party Primaries---Committee Decides Charter Should Be Given Try-out Before Making Any Changes---City Solicitor Says Mayor Should Not Be Harassed With Threat of Recall

(Special to 'The Sun.')
BOSTON, Feb. 17.—There will be no further changes in the Lowell charter this year, unless the legislature overturns reports made today by its committee on cities—a circumstance which is most unlikely.

Yesterday afternoon the committee listened to advocates and proponents of two proposed changes—one of Rep. Berard to provide for party primaries, and the other, of Rep. Slowe, to insert in the charter a recall provision. Following its hearing, the committee decided unanimously that the charter should be given an opportunity to demonstrate its worth before being subjected to further alteration.

Rep. Berard told the committee the of two proposed changes.—one of Rep. Berard to provide for party primaries, and the other, of Rep. Slowe, to insert in the charter a recall provision. Following its hearing, the committee decided unanimously that the charter should be given an opportunity to demonstrate its worth before being subjected to further alteration.

6,000,000 People Facing Starvation

SHANGHAI, China.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—More than 6,000,000 people are facing starvation in the provinces of Kiang Su, in which Shanghai is located, and Chekiang and Anhwei, according to estimates compiled here. Unprecedented floods which wiped out 20 per cent of the rice crop in these districts are blamed for the food shortage.

Explosion in Powder Plant Kills Two

LAKE HOPATCONG, N. J., Feb. 17.—Two men were killed today when the dynamite packing house of the Atlas Powder Works at Landing, N. J., was destroyed by an explosion. The two men killed, Fred Alpaugh of Kenville and Eugene Lommen of Ledgewood, were said to have been the only persons in the building at the time of the explosion.

WILL PASS BONUS BILL FOR RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYED

Chairman Fordney Says Republican House Will Adopt Soldier Measure
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—"The soldier bonus bill will be reported to a republican caucus within the next days and a republican house will pass it," Chairman Fordney, of the ways and means committee declared in the house today during a discussion over the matter of its framing.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Majority members of the house ways and means committee in whose hands the soldier bonus problem now rests before meeting today indicated they planned first to consider President Harding's suggestion that the cash payments be deferred until they could be made in a lump sum instead of spread over a period of two and one-half years.

PURCHASING AGENT HAS VISITORS

Mayor Edward T. Simoneau, of Marlboro, accompanied by Aldermen Pelletier and Levesque of that city, were in Lowell today for the purpose of a study of the office of the city purchasing agent. While here they were the guests of Mayor George H. Brown.

Mayor Simoneau said that Marlboro is running under an old form of government which allows aldermen to purchase to purchase city supplies and that a change is desired. A purchasing agent is desired and information regarding such an office in other cities now is being obtained by him and the two aldermen. He expressed great interest in the local office and was impressed with its operation.

TURKEY SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT

A turkey supper and entertainment were enjoyed by about 150 members and guests last evening in the Y.M.C.A. hall, at the annual gentlemen's night by the Young Men's Christian association. The ladies who conducted the affair wore colonial dress, in honor of the season neighboring the celebration of Washington's birthday.

The turkey supper was served at 6.30, and was followed by the entertainment, which included a play, "The Love Jockey," given by young ladies from the First Baptist Sunday school, and impromptu readings and musical selections.

The committee in charge of the supper was as follows: Mrs. H. Wood, chairman; Mrs. Hettie Pace, Mrs. E. Block, Mrs. B. W. Maister, Mrs. S. E. Noeland, Mrs. Charles S. Brigham was in charge of the dining room, and the waitresses were: Mrs. Albert Livermore, Mrs. E. Willis, Mrs. Hettie Pace, Mrs. J. Burns, Mrs. T. H. Combs, Mrs. Eva Wood, Mrs. John Fide, Mrs. C. R. Brigham, Mrs. George Williams.

MRS. OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN

BY RUTH ARDING

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The applause of the public is the most empty thing in the world.

Mrs. Oscar Hammerstein was speaking.

Mrs. Hammerstein is the widow of Oscar Hammerstein, the man who made the Chicago Opera company. She is 33 years old. She is distinctively beautiful. She is personally magnetic. She was loved by the biggest man the opera world has ever known; as his wife, she was honored and feted by a public which adored him for his generosity.

But at 32 Mrs. Hammerstein knows the emptiness of applause. She snaps her fingers at it.

Near Penalties

Because with the death of her husband, when she attempted to take over his affairs she became a sort of prey for business, family and artistic interests until now—involved in suits which threaten the very roof over her head—she is practically penniless.

She may, according to the result of suits now pending, be put out of her home, and has been denied by the Chicago Opera company, it is understood, use of Box 7 in the Manhattan Opera House. Box 7 has always been the Hammerstein box.

Mrs. Hammerstein lives in the Manhattan Opera House—she keeps house in the Opera House, this building which heard the initial performance of the Chicago Opera company. She lives alone in a little apartment away up on the level of the piano heavens. Her dog, Teddy, a gift of her late husband, is her only companion. There, to her little apartment, the strains of many a brilliant Carmen and Faust, penetrate during the lonely evening hours. Music means nothing now to this woman.

"Would you believe me if I told you that I can't listen to music now?" Mrs. Hammerstein's voice is deep toned.

Doesn't Last

"If I lie in bed at night and can hear the thunder of clapping, I turn over. Applause is just for a minute. Honor and the adoration of the public are fleeting things, I know. And I think that as I hear those others drinking in all of the dazzle.

"None of that I have learned, can you take with you through the years. 'If I lose these suits, am put out of my home and the Opera House is taken from me I shall go into oblivion. I shall forsake my own flag—my ancestors came over with the pilgrims, they fought in the war of 1812—but I shall leave this country if I can't get justice here.

"And," said Mrs. Hammerstein, "I shall go to court to have my name changed—I shall refuse to be known by a name to which the American public has been so ungrateful."

This from the widow of Oscar Hammerstein—the woman who was once a brilliant figure of every opera season.

CURLEY RENEWS DRIVE AGAINST 10C FARE

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Mayor James M. Curley sent to Gov. Cox last evening another letter concerning the Boston Elevated public control act, following the receipt of the governor's reply, yesterday, to the mayor's proposal that he make the matter the subject of a special message to the legislature.

Gov. Cox said that since the membership of this year's legislature is the same as last, he did not feel justified in asking another investigation of the same matter.

Mayor Curley in his latest letter says he regrets that the governor overlooked his real request, adding that doubtless he did not state it with sufficient clearness, although he thought he did.

"I asked you," said the mayor, "to address the legislature in relation to the Elevated Railway bill of 1918, to enable that body to proceed without delay to consider the matter and to enact remedial legislation."

The matter of "further investigation" is purely incidental and of comparatively trivial importance. The real question is whether the legislature shall be given opportunity, if it desires, to correct an intolerable situation.

No Investigation Needed

"The 10-cent fare which the citizens of Boston, and vicinity are now compelled to pay is not required to meet the cost of transportation. It provides also for the accumulation of a sum variously estimated from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000 to restore and completely equip this railway, not for the Commonwealth, or the city, or the public—but for its owners."

The citizens of Boston are taxed to make a gift of this enormous amount to a set of financiers, who, under their original contract, brought the road to ruin by mismanagement and the payment of dividends when a surplus should have been accumulated.

This legislation was secured by corruption of the legislature, and no further investigation is needed to show it.

"The vital issue, therefore, presented to Your Excellency was—shall we not whether there shall be further investigation, but whether you will assist to the end that the present legislature may be enabled to repeal an act which makes exactions from the people of this city, which are plainly unjust, and which were secured by corruption of public officials—or whether our citizens must submit to this injustice for another year until a new legislature can be elected."

"I deeply and sincerely regret that you do not see your way to render the aid of your great office in a matter so deeply and vitally important, not only to our people, but to public justice."

$75 FOR GLIMPSE OF ROYAL PROCESSIONS

LONDON, Feb. 17.—It will cost some persons who can afford to pay it the equivalent of $75 or more, to ensure a glimpse of the royal processions between Buckingham Palace and Westminster Abbey, on the day of Princess Mary's wedding, Feb. 28.

Bidding for seats at windows or on the roofs of buildings flanking the processional route, about a mile in length, is progressing briskly. The vantage points most coveted are those about parliament square, adjacent to Westminster Abbey, as these will afford a view of the arrival and departure of the wedding party.

Westminster hospital, opposite the Abbey, is counted the "grandstand" for the occasion. This hospital is in urgent need of funds. The urgency will be lessened in a degree by the readiness of scores of people to pay generously for accommodation. The hospital realized nearly $100,000 from the sale of "sight-seeing seats" last coronation day.

LOCAL PASTOR WILL GO TO RHODE ISLAND

75% OF HOUSEWIVES SOAK EVERYDAY CLOTHES

What does soaking mean to you? Three out of every four housewives always loosen the dirt by letting the clothes soak before they start washing.

With the ordinary soaps, this helped a little but there was still a lot of rubbing to be done. Rinso, an entirely new kind of soap, loosens and dissolves every bit of dirt, without the slightest injury to the clothes. Soak your clothes an hour or more in Rinso and the dirt rinses right out, all but the most stubborn places and those need only a light rubbing.

Rinso is the only soap you need for the entire regular family wash. You don't need any other soap—nor any washing powder with Rinso. Women who are using it say their clothes are spotless and last longer.

Y. W. C. A. SETS WEEK FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

The week of March 20 will be Y. W. C. A. week as set aside yesterday afternoon by that association in a meeting held in the club house. During the week in question the association will ask its friends to contribute funds with which to carry on the work of the year. Miss Maude Hobbs of New York city, a special worker for the national body, has been assigned to assist in the work here during the drive. Mrs. John A. Stevens will be chairman of the drive committee and Miss Elsie F. Bradt, campaign director.

Interesting reports of departmental work were read at the meeting. It was announced that tomorrow night the basketball team would play the Lawrence girls' team on the local floor.

SALE OF PROPERTY
Negotiations are under way for the sale of the four-story brick building at 179-183 East Northwack street by Alpha Omega to Peter and Charles Spanos and Anastas Sophronis, and it is expected the final papers will be signed within a few days. The property is valued at $15,000.

purpose of his bill is to establish a system which will bring the vote out at primaries. When the commission form of government was first instituted, he said, eighty per cent. of the vote came out at the primaries, but this has steadily dropped until in recent years it has been difficult to get as many as fifty per cent. of the voters to attend a primary.

Chairman Bliss inquired how long the new charter has been in operation, and Rep. Berard replied that it became effective only this year, but he pointed out that already the committee has approved one change, that permitting the election commissioners to fix the hours during which the polls shall be open at primaries, and having corrected that mistake, he said, there is no reason why the committee should not correct another. With two good party committees, he believed, it would be easy to get out a representative vote at primary elections.

City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney said he believed the sentiment of the city to be overwhelmingly against the Berard bill. The idea of party politics in municipal affairs, he said, is dead. He believed the present charter to be elected under any form of charter.

Rep. Thomas J. Corbett pointed out that Rep. Berard favored the charter bill last year, without any provision for party primaries.

Rep. Owen E. Brennan also was recorded against the Berard bill, sitting on the side lines. Chairman Bliss asked his opinion with respect to the measure. Achin replied that in his opinion partisan politics are better for every city. Lowell has been working under a non-partisan plan since 1911, and as a result the city has drifted into campaigns which are controlled by racial and religious issues. Under the old plan, city officials were at least as capable as are now elected.

However, he said, the charter was only recently born, and it should have a fair opportunity to prove itself. But on the broad and general question, he thought the city, as well as every other, would be better governed under a party system.

Slows Starts Fireworks

Then the real fireworks started, when the committee called for those in favor of the Slows bill. Rep. Slows began by stating that there is a real demand in Lowell for a recall provision in the city charter. During the last month and a half, he said, "we have had opportunity to observe the need for a recall provision. Such little power as is given to the council under the charter, the mayor is asking the superior court to take away. If the council should decide in favor of the mayor, there would be nothing for the council to do but to resign. I say this with no animosity to the present mayor, but what we have in Lowell is in effect the city manager form of government, under which all power is vested in the mayor. There should be some check upon his exercise of authority. It is my opinion that if either Plan A or Plan B of the standard forms of city charters were placed on the ballot at the next state election, the voters of Lowell would accept it in preference to the present charter."

Patrick J. Reynolds, as counsel for municipal employees, said the men ask that the recall be inserted in the charter, in order that it will be available if needed. He said he had talked with former Mayor Casey, chairman of the charter commission, and was informed that the recall was in the charter originally, but had been taken out by the legislative committee. Chairman Bliss interrupted to say that he had no recollection of it having been in, whereupon Mr. Reynolds said he had been informed by Mr. Casey that it was because of Chairman Bliss' insistence that it had been taken out. "Oh very well," replied the chairman, "I had forgotten it."

Continuing, Mr. Reynolds said the inclusion is still young, but the inclu-

HEALTH THE SECRET OF ATTRACTION

Women of today depend a good deal upon the modern medicine and a knowledge of the cosmetic art to make them attractive. Too often there exists beneath it all a suffering woman whose nervous laugh or forced smile covers a pang of agony caused by some feminine ailment. To such a woman Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will bring health and a happy relief from her suffering, that will make her far more attractive than costly gowns and cosmetics.

For nearly 50 years American women have relied upon this root and herb medicine to relieve their ailments.—Adv.

THE BICKER FAMILY

those who happen to be in power.

"The last election in Lowell was a clean campaign, fought on clear-cut issues at all times above board. The present mayor was elected because he declared he would enforce the law, and the people knew they could take him at his word. He also promised to make changes in some of the city departments, and to that end, too, met the approval of the people."

"It has been in office forty days, striving to fulfill his promises to the people, and while he is doing the best he can, these men come here to harass him. It is apparent that they had expected him to stand by his old friends, but to their surprise, when he appointed his budget commission he failed to recognize the politicians, but instead appointed two of the best business men in the city. For the board of public works, he selected an experienced standing. In the board of health he gave the city the best group of men it has ever had. Now he is busily engaged in an effort to keep the tax rate at least as low as the present figure of $31.45 per thousand."

"He has won the support of the best people in Lowell and I say: It is a shame and an outrage that he should be harassed with the threat of a recall if he continues to do his duty."

"Now just a word about the city employees. Industrial conditions are not what we might wish. There are great numbers of men seeking an opportunity to work, and naturally very many of them turn to the city. They cannot all be employed, because the charter provides that we shall not spend in any one month a sum in excess of one-twelfth of the total expenditures for the preceding year. So we have to turn some of the would-be city employees away, but those who have come certainly have nothing to complain about. Lowell's employees are the best paid in Massachusetts, if not in the entire country."

"If you want to insert a recall provision for our city, then put it into every city charter in Massachusetts. There is absolutely no reason why Lowell should be singled out for it. The present government is a high-class, competent one, at least as good as any we have had in the past 15 years, and there is no reason why it should be applied to Lowell unless you think it ought to be in every charter."

Tierney Interrogated

Senator Carey—"If the present mayor is doing so well, why is he afraid of the recall?"

Mr. Tierney—"I do not know that he is afraid of it, but I say this—when a chief executive is striving his hardest to give the city the best administration of which he is capable, I say it is unfair to hold over his head the threat that he will be recalled unless he does exactly as the politicians want him to do in certain things. When you put that recall provision into a charter, you in fact say that no mayor can be his own master. With it written into the law, he would be forced to listen to those who have selfish interests, and who care nothing for the real interests of the city of Lowell. You should remember that the present mayor of Lowell is a man without a dollar; he didn't have a dollar for his campaign, but he was able to win just the same. Now he has collected one month's salary, and he isn't on Easy street yet."

Carey—"Then the mayor has not instructed you to come here to oppose this bill?"

Tierney—"He has not; under the charter it is his duty to attend hearings of this sort and to report to the council what occurs."

Carey—"Then how do you know that the mayor is opposed to it?"

Tierney—"I haven't said that he is. I have expressed my own opinion, and I am supposed to do under our charter."

Chairman Bliss—"Suppose the mayor had instructed you to favor the bill, and you were opposed to it, what would you have done?"

Tierney—"I should have opposed it, because under our charter I do not have to obey the mayor."

Chairman Bliss—"If there is any such provision as that in your charter, I think we shall have to amend it."

This brought the hearing to a close and the committee went into executive session, announcing later that it had decided unanimously to recommend that neither of the bills be passed.

MICHAEL COLLINS SENDS PROTEST TO CHURCHILL

DUBLIN, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, last night sent a long telegram to Winston Spencer Churchill, British secretary for the colonies. It was in the nature of a manifesto to the British people asking fair play for the Irish people in respect to the recent happenings in Ulster, and for the appointment of the blame for them in the proper places.

Alluding to the suspension of the evacuation of Ireland by the British troops, the message said:

"I have seen it suggested in the English press that suspension of the evacuation of Ireland by the British troops is for the purpose of helping the provisional government. The best way the British government can help us at the present time is not by suspending the carrying out of the treaty, but by carrying it out. It is by adhering to its spirit and letter that Ireland will be convinced that Britain is really delivering the goods this time.

"Many of the people of Ireland believe that even at this late hour England will again trick us, and this belief is used as much as possible to our disadvantage by those who oppose us. The people and government of England should understand that Ireland emerged from a black and tan era, and it is inevitable that the feeling should continue for a time to be suspicious, not only of England's good faith, but of the good sense of any Irishman who would trust England.

"We who have put our hands to the treaty do not intend to turn back, but we must insist that the other side show absolute good will also, and in this regard it is high time that the English people should view the so-called Ulster question in its true perspective."

Churchill Scouts Coup
LONDON, Feb. 17.—(City Associated Press)—In moving the second reading of the Irish Free State bill in the house of commons yesterday, Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, laid stress on the necessity of giving effect to the treaty by carrying out the provisions of the treaty as the treaty provided, with lawful powers and enabling it to hold an election at the earliest moment.

The success of De Valera at the election he characterized as "an ugly hypothesis."

"It is perfectly clear that the reputation of the treaty by Ireland would free all parties from their engagements," the secretary continued, "and the position of Britain, standing on the treaty and ready to carry it out, if others were found on behalf of the Irish nation to do their part, would be a position of great moral as well as undoubted material strength. The position of Southern Ireland, on the other hand, would be one of the greatest weakness and difficulty, absolutely isolated from the sympathy of the world and bitterly divided in herself. The position of northern Ireland would be quite unaffected."

All the government's information led it to feel that such an assumption as the success of De Valera's was incorrect.

Alluding to the report of a coup d'etat to overturn the provisional government, Mr. Churchill said: "There are those who think the present Irish government may be overthrown by a coup d'etat and a Red Soviet government set up. The British government does not think that at all likely, but if it were, it is quite clear that a Soviet republic would ruin the Irish cause for 100 years, while not in any respect impairing the foundation of the British Empire or the security of Ulster. No people really are less likely to turn Bolshevik than the Irish."

For Relief of Unemployed

Immediately, inasmuch as the council's action on the $30,000 appropriation order preceded consideration of the petition, the hearing was short-lived.

J. A. McParadenn said that a number of men went to the city stables yesterday noon looking for work on snow removal but because they did not have shovels no jobs were forthcoming. "If you don't own a shovel you are out of luck in that department," he commented.

The meeting was called to order at 8.25 o'clock by Pres. Bagley.

Councillor McParadenn offered the following resolution in the form of a vote:

"That an emergency involving the health and safety of the people exists by reason of the large number of persons out of employment and that some measure for the relief of such persons is necessary."

It was unanimously passed.

Pres. Bagley read an order introduced by Councillor McParadenn authorizing the appropriation of $30,000 to be transferred from the general treasury fund to the board of public service, to be expended by that board at its discretion for the purpose of relieving the condition of unemployment now existing.

A certification was read from Mayor

George H. Brown to the effect that an emergency of unemployment now exists.

A second certification was read from the public service board, to the effect that it will do everything possible toward creating employment and if the $30,000 is received efforts will be made to have the civil service rules suspended during the emergency.

Councillor McParadenn spoke on the motion and Councillor Gallagher added that he understood that the board of public service already has taken up the matter of a suspension of the rules regarding employment of men not on the certified list and that the civil service commission is ready and willing to abide by any decision of the board.

The order, with the emergency clause attached, was passed unanimously on a roll call vote.

It was brought out that the public service board desires to expend as much of the $30,000 as possible on the reconstruction of First street.

Pres. Bagley read a petition bearing approximately 500 signatures, asking for a public hearing on the unemployment situation.

It was voted to grant the hearing immediately.

James Dacey rose to speak on the unemployment situation and said that he believed that when Councillor McParadenn introduced an order for $500,000 for the purpose of relieving the emergency, he was on the right track.

He favored a house building plan to take care of $250,000 and the other half to go toward permanent street improvements.

Edward B. Conant and others petitioned for an extension of the white way system from Church street to Charles street on Central street. It was referred to the board of public service.

Pres. Bagley read a resolution presented by Councillor Queenan to the effect that the soldier bonus legislation now before congress be approved and passed without delay and that copies of the resolution be sent to Congressmen John Jacob Rogers and Senators Henry Cabot Lodge and David I. Walsh.

As it will be necessary to give the resolution another reading before its passage, it was held over until the next meeting.

The council voted to accept the act amending the city charter as relating to the house polls shall be open at primary elections. This amendment leaves it to the option of the election commissioners as to the time of opening the polls.

Councillor Appleton drew the following six names for traverse jury duty:

John L. Bolton, 146 Chelmsford street, laborer.

Richard J. Welch, 543 Andover st., plumber.

John A. White, 70 South street, B. & M.

John J. Murray, 120 Hoyt avenue, clerk.

Arthur F. Mansur, 122 Andover st., retired.

Joseph Foley, 227 Hildreth street, baker.

Six more names were drawn by Councillor McMahon, as follows:

Joseph Hughes, 105 South Highland street, printer.

Joseph T. Tuttle, 3 Dane avenue, clerk.

Telephone Forrest, 859 Lawrence street, tannery.

Timothy P. McCarthy, 28 Butterfield street, clerk.

The resolution presented by Councillor Queenan on the bonus bill, so-called, was changed to read as a vote, and it was unanimously passed.

Pres. Bagley read an order authorizing the appropriation of $5000 for the payment of bills charged to the erection of the Highlands firehouse.

On a roll call vote the order passed.

Pres. Bagley suggested that committee chairmen get their committees together as soon as possible and to begin their functions.

WINS NEW AUTOMOBILE

Winning Ticket in Auto Drawing Bore Name of Joseph Kelley

The drawing for a Buick touring car, in connection with the recent reunion of St. Michael's parish, was held in Lincoln hall last evening, and the lucky ticket, No. 204, series B, bore the name of Joseph Kelley, a linotype operator at the Courier-Citizen job plant. Mr. Kelley was notified that he would receive his prize today, by establishing his identity at St. Michael's parochial residence.

The drawing was splendidly conducted. The box containing the stubs was placed on the platform, and a blindfolded boy made the drawing. A committee picked from the floor witnessed his selection of the lucky ticket. At first he drew two, which were replaced in conformity with the rules of the drawing and on the second attempt established the winner.

A drawing for a pair of shoes donated by Patrick Flannery, was held prior to the auto drawing, and Mrs. Alice McHugh was the winner.

The large crowd participating in the dancing program, an added feature of the evening, showed extreme interest when, at intermission, Rev. Fr. Mullin announced that the drawing was about to take place. A committee was chosen to supervise the drawing, and included the following: James Mullin, chairman; Mrs. James Gaffney, Miss Winifred Hart, James Lyons and James Sullivan. Thomas Tobin was selected to draw the lucky ticket, and was blindfolded by Fr. Mullin. The drawing was made from a screen screen, revolved rapidly before it was uncovered.

The officers of the dancing party were: General manager, John F. White; assistant general manager, James Mullin; floor director, Thomas Heath; assistant, Martin Connelley; chief aid, Miss Frances Foley. The tonic table was under the supervision of John Flannery, and the punch was in the care of George Keefe. Misses Rose Bourke and Margaret Lynch, assisted by a committee, presided over the ice cream table.

SHE TRIED IT FOR INDIGESTION

"JUST TO SEE IF IT WOULD HELP"

NOW FEELS FINE AND ENJOYS MEALS

Indigestion kept me so bloated up with gases after meals that I suffered for hours at a time with that disagreeable burning sensation. Nothing seemed to agree with me; I was kept belching all the time and my condition got so bad I was simply miserable. I decided to try these new Phos-Pho-Vitamins tablets just to see if they really would help.

Suffering Banded

"My condition began to improve so much that I decided to keep on taking them. And they surely did bring me the relief I sought. The first thing I knew my bowels were regulated to move gently and naturally every day. Then my whole system began to improve. My nerves were strong and steady once more; was able to enjoy nourishing meals and didn't suffer so much after them. Since I have a ravenous appetite and eat three hearty meals a day and can feel them putting new life into me. I am not bothered at all by that disagreeable indigestion, but feel simply fine. Phos-Pho-Vitamins tablets surely put me on the road to health."—Mrs. E. Fletcher, 101 Greenwood street, Springfield.

Pleasant to Take.

If Phos-Pho-Vitamins tablets could bring relief to thousands of others it was but reasonable to suppose that they could relieve Mrs. Fletcher. This is why leading druggists are featuring these new tablets. They contain powerful food-vitalizing values combined with medicinal elements well suited to the irritated digestive organs and weakened stomach. They are concentrated by experts into tiny tablets to make them pleasant for you to take and quicker in bringing you relief. (See full description in the Orange Colored Carton from the Irving Laboratory.) Just ask for genuine Phos-Pho-Vitamins on your way home to supper tonight. The cost is only a trifle compared with the joy of quick and lasting relief.—Adv.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Mrs. Henry W. ## Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin to-day by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. As the burglar picked up her jewels, she continued: "You may have all that stuff. You see that is just some things I bought in the 5 and 10-cent store for a masquerade ball. All together they are not worth 50 cents."

"You mean that this stuff ain't no good?"

"That is just what I mean," said Mrs. Butler.

"Well, then, I don't want it," replied the burglar, climbing out of the window and descending to the street.

Mrs. Butler then telephoned the police and Hardcastle was arrested in a doorway.

E. A. Wilson and Laforest Beale, who recently purchased the Arlington hotel at the corner of Central and Hurd streets, petitioned the land court for registration of the title of the property free from restrictions. The petition is being opposed by the Middlesex Co. and yesterday Judge Davis of the land court held a hearing in this city. It seems that the property originally belonged to the Middlesex Co. and was sold subject to a condition, which was that if any structure should be built within 20 feet of Hurd street, the title to the property should revert to the Middlesex Co. It is claimed that at one time there was an enclosed area on the Hurd street side of the building, alongside stone steps, and which was used as a refreshment booth.

The petition is to determine the following questions at issue:

First, was that provision a condition or a restriction? If it were a condition, the title would revert to the Middlesex Co. If it were a restriction, it would not affect the title, but the person for whose benefit the restriction was imposed could require the removal of any structure built within the reserved area.

Second, assuming it to be a condition, did the fact that a structure existed for a number of years within the area operate as a waiver of that condition?

Third, if it was a restriction, has the neighborhood so changed that the court will now declare it void, in view of the fact that it was formerly a residential neighborhood, and is now a business district?

FLAY PRES. HARDING

Democrats Score "Wiggling and Wobbling" on the Bonus Question

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Representative Garner, ranking democrat on the ways and means committee, and Representative Carrett of Tennessee, the democratic leader, declared in a statement yesterday that the suggestion of President Harding for a sales tax or postponement of soldier bonus legislation "was not at all surprising to those of us who have watched the 'wiggling and wobbling' which has been going on for the last two weeks by the republican organization, both in the legislative and executive branches."

"As a matter of fact," the statement continued, "there is every reason to believe that from the very beginning

there was a fixed purpose and a distinct understanding among the republican leaders that a situation should be brought about whereby the bonus would be paid with a sales tax or there would be no bonus. The eight-point plan of taxation suggested by the republican members of the ways and means committee was evidently put forth simply as a 'feeler.' They realized that it would bring immediate protest from persons who could promptly visualize the burdens that would thereby be imposed."

"The sales tax burden cannot be fully realized until the people begin to pay it, hence protests will not begin coming at once, and after it shall have once been adopted it will then be too late to protest."

"There has been from the beginning a purpose on the part of the republicans to engraft the sales tax system upon the country, so that there may be a gradual reduction of the taxes upon wealth."

Due to weak eyes, Kepler, the astronomer, had to rely on the observation of others to construct his theories.

EXILED EMPRESS VISITS QUEEN

When Zita, ex-empress of Austria, recently passed through Spain on her way back to exile at Madeira, she was the guest of King Alfonso. Here she is shown with the queen mother, Christina, leaving the historical Church of St. Francis the Great at Madrid.

POPE AWAITING REPAIRS ON PRIVATE APARTMENT

ROME, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Pope XI has not yet settled down to the normal life of a supreme pontiff, chiefly because the private apartment occupied by the late Benedict XV is not yet ready to receive him. A crowd of workmen is still busy redecorating the apartment, changing the hangings and carpets and rearranging the furniture.

Meanwhile the pope continues to sleep in what is called the "little throne room." It was in this chamber that Pope Leo XIII died.

Compared with the other rooms in the Vatican it is considered small, although it measures about 20 by 20 feet and the ceiling is 16 feet high.

As it adjoins the large papal library, where Pius X and Benedict XV received visitors, the chamber was transformed into a small throne room. A throne was placed opposite the window and on the floor was a magnificent carpet presented by Alfonso XII, king of Spain, to Pope Leo, having in its center the coat of arms of the Spanish sovereign.

Mr. Devo, editor of several Irish publications, last night made public a cable message to Michael Collins stating he would not accept the view that England's wish to have Ireland in the League of Nations was worth anything as an acknowledgment of Ireland's independence.

"Ireland's representatives would be utterly powerless in a body absolutely controlled by England for her own purposes," the message said, "and would be only pawns in her imperialist game. The published cablegram that MacWhite had applied formally for admission, justified the assumption he acted under instructions, but I accept your word there was no secret agreement with Lloyd George."

Mr. Devo, assistant Mr. Collins that "without compromising republicans, our best men here under existing conditions favor giving the 'Free State' a chance to do what it can for Ireland. He said he was utterly opposed to the Valera's attempt to upset the Free State agreement and to 'substitute therefor what is a repudiation of the independent Republic leaving Ireland attached to the empire, and in effect giving to England all the rights and privileges which she condemns you for conceding.'"

The defeat of de Valera's selfish campaign is absolutely necessary in Ireland's dearest interests," he asserted.

In the villages in the Nile district, where the houses have that tops, the natives make use of the roofs to house their smaller live stock.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a few of Sage Tea and Sulphur. When ever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wynell's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple and sure remedy is depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wynell's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—its so easy to use. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Adv.

Best Cough Mixture Is Home Made

Acts With Speed—Loosens the Phlegm—Stops the Irritation and Coughing Cures

Fine for Chest Colds Too and Is Cheaply Made at Home.

When you can make, in two minutes, a world beating remedy that acts directly on the membrane and often over night cures stubborn coughs and even hard chest colds to disappear, why trifle with things that will probably discontinue?

Hawking and snuffling and absence of the mucous membrane go and you will feel fine in about 10 minutes.

Just get one bottle of Diamond Dye (made strength) add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half-pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.

Its soothing, healing action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for Catarrh and acute bronchitis.—Adv.

DIAMOND DYES

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions to dye any woman's dress or suit or her old worn faded things new. Even if she has never dyed before, she can put a rich, fadeless color into shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything. Buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade, or run.—Adv.

In Grip of Cold Wave

the third successive day and a strong north wind piling the roads with drift. A steamer and a tug with three barges in tow were anchored off Monomoy Point, waiting for the weather to moderate before proceeding. The thermometer registered 12 degrees above zero. Between eight and ten inches of snow had fallen before noon.

New York Shivers

39 Below Zero

Cold Wave Sweeps Wide Area
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Northeastern United States was shrouded in ice today as a result of a cold snap of unusual severity, according to reports to the weather bureau, whose forecasters would predict little relief before Saturday.

The coldest spots in the United States today were Canton, N. Y., Northfield, Vt., and Greenville, Me., where the temperatures ranged from 20 to 40 below. New York city, weather bureau officials said, probably was undergoing "coldest weather" than cities with lower registers, because of a moisture-laden wind.

The cold wave was in effect today far below the Mason & Dixon line, several cities reporting low temperatures.

Abandon Jazz and Cigaret Smoking

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 17.—Four hundred members of the Albuquerque high school league have abandoned jazz dancing "petting parties" and cigarette smoking. A resolution described jazz dancing as that by which "is meant dancing that involves unnecessary bodily contact and that might appear vulgar to the onlooker."

Troops Held in Readiness For Trouble

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 17.—Despite the failure of Mexican revolutionists to attack Juarez and the assertion of Gen. Martinez, commander of the northern military zone of Mexico, that there was no sign of revolutionary activity in the zone, the First United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Bliss here, still was held in camp today, in readiness for emergencies. It was said at the camp that this condition would continue until the rumors of an impending revolution in Mexico end. Gen. Martinez who arrived here yesterday from Chihuahua said that "the revolutionary flurry has passed," adding that the leaders of the proposed revolt had been captured and two of them executed.

Domestic Service Skilled Job

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Domestic service is a skilled job and the opposite of a degrading occupation, declared Lady Astor, M. P., presiding at a conference on unemployment among women. "When I listen to the anti-women members in the house of commons," she added, "I rather long to go to them as a domestic. It would be such a wonderful chance of what the soldiers called 'learning 'em.'"

To Admit Members Without Emersion

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Members will be admitted to the Fayetteville Baptist church hereafter without emersion. This was decided upon by a two-thirds vote of the membership of the church at its annual meeting. This is the first time that a Baptist church in this section has modified the rule insisting upon emersion as the sole method of Baptism. The church is located in a suburb of Syracuse.

Lenine Not to Attend Genoa Conference

LONDON, Feb. 17.—It is considered extremely unlikely that Premier Lenine of soviet Russia will attend the Genoa conference, despite the previous understanding that he was to head the Russian delegation, according to the Russian trade delegation here. Resolutions from hundreds of workers' meetings held throughout Russia have been pouring into Moscow recently against his going, the trade representatives report.

Barges Aground Off Mass. Coast

SANDWICH, Feb. 17.—A barge was grounded near each entrance to the Cape Cod canal today. The barge Socony 6, struck the northern end of the breakwater, off the eastern entrance, during the night and was still stranded there today, but in no apparent danger. The barge Greenwood was ashore at Hinnewell's point, in Buzzard's bay, just below the western entrance to the canal. Both barges were believed to be bound for Boston.

Looting in Several Mexican Towns

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Mexico is tranquil except a few places in the states of Michoacan and Jalisco, according to reports from postmasters in all parts of the republic to Secretary of the Treasury De la Huerta. Disturbances in a few places were reported but these were described as being directed against organized society in general rather than against the Mexican government, taking the form of marauding and looting.

$500,000 Fire Loss at Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 17.—Fire which wiped out one-fourth of a city block at 21st street and Fourth avenue in the heart of the downtown business district today caused a loss of more than $500,000.

FAMOUS INTERVIEWS
WITH EX-KAISER

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—William Bayard Hale's famous interviews with the German Kaiser, Wilhelm II, sold to the Century magazine, in 1908 for $1000, and partly printed before it was suppressed, was almost made known to the world last night by William Webster Ellsworth, former president of the Century Publishing Co., and descendant of Noah Webster.

Portions of the famous interview were told to the students of the Medill school of journalism after reporters had promised not to make them public.

"What was it," asked Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, at the conclusion of the address, "that the Kaiser said about my father? Do tell me even though it was unfavorable."

"My dear lady," replied Noah Webster's great grandson, "I can only repeat that it was unfavorable. Other than that I remember nothing in that part of the interview. And every single copy of the interview was taken 500 miles out into the Atlantic ocean and there burned by a picked detachment of German naval officers who spent the day in the furnace room of a warship to do it."

FIRE ALARMS

There were two alarms for slight fires last evening and one this morning for what was believed to be a blaze. The first alarm went in last evening from box 125 at 8:51 o'clock for a slight blaze in a small room, off the kitchen at 539 Market street. The other was a telephone alarm at 9:20 o'clock for a chimney blaze at 151 East Merrimack street. This morning's alarm was by telephone and was sent in at 10:40 o'clock by a person who saw smoke issuing from a window in a house in Gates street near the corner of Westford street. When the firemen reached the premises they found that the "smoke" was steam escaping from the bathroom of the house.

PURGE MOVIES

—ELINOR GLYN

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Let Elinor Glyn tell you what's wrong and what's right with the movies and those who make them.

Here is neither blanket approbation nor condemnation but the discriminating verdict of author, woman of the world, observer of social conditions in many lands and now a participant in motion picture production here.

"In applying the moral yardstick to cinema performers," she says, "always keep this consideration to the fore: that there is no other vocation where such temptations exist."

"The picture studio is not like the stage where actors and actresses play opposite one another for a season. There is a constant change of partners, constant excitation of the emotional nature."

"Many young, beautiful women and gifted, handsome men come into this environment without discipline or the protective armor of sound home breeding."

"They are then quite at the mercy of their emotions. Yet as a class I have never known people so wholesome, charitable, kindly and industrious."

Public Should Sympathize
Probably the most, independent in thought and action among all the celebrated authors taking part in film production, Mrs. Glyn speaks her impressions with genuine conviction and directness.

"For the entertainment and relaxation across folk give it, the public ought to be like a sympathetic friend, not condemning wholesale for the vagaries of the few."

"Eliminate these few promptly by an unmistakable social gesture—that would be the intelligent attitude. Otherwise carelessness is only stimulated because good and bad behavior is not differentiated."

"I would unhesitatingly pillory those cases demanding it but I believe it futile and negative to fine-tooth the industry merely to bring those isolated instances to light."

Suggests Two Remedies

"Two constructive suggestions I would offer:

"One: Let the public support only those stars who are known to be leading irreproachable lives."

"Two: Let the leaders of the industry secure a tradition and standard of fine conduct and clean living."

"I would advocate the formation of a great, all-embracing movie guild where the banner of high purpose would be raised and an esprit de corps could be developed."

Mrs. Glyn had just come in from "location" where Gloria Swanson and Rudolph Valentino are working on her picture, "Beyond the Rock," which portrays the conflict between passion, love and the restraint and stress as necessary to combat the temptations of youthful heroes in the cinema world.

Sera No Locality

"I never saw any wild behavior on my own sets," she resumed. "No drunken young men, no promiscuous kissing—none of the things one hears whispered of."

"I have beheld little that wasn't commendable in Hollywood. I have heard of them, yes—of too much drinking, especially, and I think that want of sobriety is at the bottom of most of the distressing things."

"Off in spots there is riotous living, here in occasion for the weapon of social ostracism upon individuals, not the stunting of an industry."

"Remember that for every lovely lady who dashes about in limousines, there are thousands of hard-working directors, artists and artisans whose living is jeopardized by unreasoning public attack."

"Raving and ranting do no good. Good example and the appeal to honor alone is potent."

"Under the fierce white light that beats upon them physically and mentally, I marvel that motion picture folk are as good as they are."

POTATO GROWERS SEEK LOWER FREIGHT RATES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Potato growers of Maine through the Public Utilities commission of that state, presented at the Interstate Commerce commission's general rate hearings today, an argument for a special revision of rates in their territory and upon their product. Herbert W. Trafton, chairman of the state commission, and Charles P. Barnes, speaker of the Maine legislature, were called as witnesses. Senators Fernald and Hale of Maine were on hand to support application.

Mr. Trafton said the general 10 per cent reduction recently made on rates on farm products had been omitted in Maine and other New England territory. Though the Maine Central, the Bangor & Aroostook and Canadian Pacific lines in the state had finally allowed the 10 per cent reduction on interstate shipments, he said, state rates remained the same. Maine growers produce one-ninth of the entire potato crop of the United States, have been put at a serious disadvantage with their competitors, according to the witness.

Attorney Hart, representing New England railroads, attacked Mr. Trafton's conclusions sharply on cross-examination, alleging that the Boston & Maine and the Bangor & Aroostook had barely met operating expenses.

and charges last year. Mr. Trafton agreed but remarked that the Bangor & Aroostook was "on the right side of the ledger."

Taking up the situation in potato markets, Mr. Hart demanded to know whether Maine potatoes, under existing rate structures, did not entirely monopolize the market at Boston, furnish 50 per cent of the supply for New York city, instead of 20 per cent, as in pre-war years, and 25 per cent in Philadelphia, against a merely nominal percentage in past seasons. Mr. Trafton said he did not have the figures but would not challenge the railroad showing.

Speaker Barnes said the Maine Growers wanted "this 10 per cent discrimination removed from a product which is essentially the food of the poor." He described at length the methods of growing and shipping potatoes, which he said, were a most desirable traffic for any railroad.

CITY SOLICITOR SUBMITS OPINION

In response to a request from City Clerk Stephen Flynn for an interpretation of the meaning of section 53 of the charter, which has to do with the general subject of referendum, City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney, today submitted the following opinion:

Mr. Stephen Flynn,
City Clerk,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Mr. Flynn:

In response to your written request for an opinion as to the meaning and effect of section 53 of the charter having to do with the general subject of referendum, I beg to advise you as follows:

On careful study of this section it seems clear that it is not necessary for ten days to elapse before measures passed by the city council become operative. On the contrary the plain meaning of this section, read as a whole, is that when measures are passed by the city council in accordance with the law and other sections of the charter, and have otherwise become effective, at any time within 10 days in some instances and 30 days in other instances, the referendum may be invoked as provided in this section.

The section provides that when the referendum is invoked by the filing of the petition with the city clerk, "the operation of such measure shall be suspended." This would seem to imply clearly that it is in operation before the filing of the petition. The section further provides that when the petition is filed "it shall be the duty of the city council to reconsider the same." This language also seems to imply clearly that the operation of the measure is not held up or suspended during the ten or thirty days, as the case may be, but is in operation, so far as this section is concerned, from its passage.

The section further provides "if it (the measure) is not wholly repealed the city council shall submit it as provided therein, to the voters. This language also clearly indicates that the measure is in operation from the time of its passage until it is suspended by the filing of a petition invoking the referendum.

Trusting that this clearly answers your query in full, I beg to remain, Very truly yours,
EDWARD J. TIERNEY,
City Solicitor.

Local Textile Strike

taken so as to bring about a conference between the mill officials and International President Thomas P. McMahon of the United Textile Workers of America.

Will Return Next Week

Mr. Knight informed Mr. Hanley that because of the fact that there are several textile strikes in various parts of the state and that his time is pretty well taken up, he will not be able to enter with the mill officials today, but will return to Lowell in the early part of next week and then he will endeavor to interview the agents of the Hamilton and Jay State as to their stand in the matter. He hopes to be able to bring about a conference.

Mr. Hanley, in conversation with a Sun reporter this forenoon, stated that "The United Textile Workers of America are always ready to sit around the table with mill officials and discuss matters. Our organization does not believe in a strike only as a last resort and then, even after the operatives are out, we stand ready at any time to discuss the issue involved in an amicable manner. Of course," he said, "no one man can settle a strike, for as for the ending of a strike it requires a majority vote by a majority of the unions represented at the Lowell Textile council and then the action of the said unions has to be sanctioned by a majority of the council. So that, if a conference is brought about, the result of the conference will be brought to the attention of the members of the nine unions represented in the council, and a vote will be taken as to the acceptance or rejection of the proposition submitted and then each union will report the result of its vote at a special meeting of the council, where final action will be taken. International President McMahon is the man who, as a rule, represents the operatives at a conference with the mill officials, unless he deems it advisable to be represented at the conference by delegates designated by him."

After being informed that the strikers were willing to meet, the mill officials, The Sun man endeavored to communicate the news to Agent Billington of the Jay State, but Mr. Billington was out of town. Supt. Wilmett was then asked if he believed the officials of the company would be willing to confer with a committee representing the strikers and he replied he did not know. He was then asked if there was anything new at the mill and his reply was, "We are better off today than yesterday."

Agent Milliken of the Hamilton Mfg. Co., when asked if he were willing to meet his employees to discuss matters, replied, "I have nothing to say."

International President McMahon today received a letter from International President McMahon, who is leading the textile strikes in Rhode Island. Mr. McMahon offered words of encouragement to the local strikers, saying "keep up the fight, you are fighting for a good cause and you are bound to win. Keep up your courage and everything will end well."

Trade & Labor hall in Central street proved inadequate to comfortably hold the numerous employees of the Jay State Cotton corporation at an organizing meeting held last night. There were over 200 men and women present and before the meeting was brought to a close several of those present sketched their intention of joining the various unions in the textile industry. The meeting was addressed by John Hanley.

breach of the pledges given by the prime minister, the house should decline to proceed with the second reading until the government had given assurance that the provision in question should be eliminated or that any decision of the boundary commission should only take effect after approval of the northern parliament had been given.

Former Premier Asquith vigorously supported the bill in the debate before the vote, saying the boundary question was an integral part of the treaty and that it would be impossible for the government to escape the charge of gross bad faith if there were any repudiation of that part of the agreement.

Prime Minister Lloyd George contradicted an assertion by Thomas Moles, Unionist member for the Ormeau division of Belfast, that the government had assured Sir James Craig that the boundary adjustment would be of a minor character while promising Michael Collins extensive changes.

A heated altercation ensued between Mr. Moles and Mr. Lloyd George over this point.

"Ulster demands a straight deal," exclaimed Mr. Moles. "If a breach is made in the wall surrounding the Ulster area and invasion is attempted we will stand in the breach and defend it or die with our dead bodies."

Lord Hugh Cecil charged the government with treating the Sinn Fein as if it were a constituted government, adding:

"Now that we have found it is not

42 Kidnapped Men Released

BELFAST, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press).—Forty-two Ulster Unionists, kidnapped during the recent raids across the border from the south, have been released. Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, telegraphed Colonial Secretary Churchill today that he had succeeded in obtaining the liberation of this number of prisoners.

Quiet in Belfast Last Night

BELFAST, Feb. 17 (By the Associated Press).—Last night was the quietest Belfast has experienced since the outbreak on Sunday night of the disorders which have taken a toll of more than 30 lives. The only incident reported early this morning was the firing of a shot at a watchman in the Stillalls district. He escaped injury.

Return to their homes of a large number of kidnapped unionists has had a good effect on public opinion here, but the situation on the border continues to be one of danger owing to the proximity of rival forces at some points.

News of the arrangement for Union commissions on each side of the frontier also was received with satisfaction and the hope is widely expressed

MURDERED IN LAWYER'S OFFICE

Farmer Attacks Wealthy Land
Owner During Taking of Depositions in Divorce Case

Victim Had Denounced Slay-
er's Charges of Intimacy
With Wife as "Lie."

SOMERSET, Ky., Feb. 17.—John P. Todd, farmer, who yesterday shot and killed A. H. Wilson, wealthy land owner, in an attorney's office, here after Wilson had denounced as a "black lie" Todd's charges that he had been intimate with Mrs. Todd, today remained silent concerning the case.

The shooting occurred during the taking of depositions in divorce proceedings. Wilson had been named co-respondent in Todd's counter claim to Mrs. Todd's suit, charging adultery.

Mrs. Todd was in an auto-room where she could hear the testimony. "Were you ever intimate with Mrs. Todd?" asked Judge William Catron, attorney for Mrs. Todd.

"Absolutely no. It's a lie—as black a lie as ever was told."

Before there was time for anyone to interfere Todd had whipped out a pistol and fired four shots at Wilson, seated only a few feet away. Three shots took effect and Wilson died a few minutes later. Todd surrendered and was taken to jail. He is the father of three children. Wilson has a daughter, who is the wife of James Server, star University of Kentucky football player.

Ulster's army of special constables on the border has elaborately equipped defenses, including strategically placed positions protected by barbed wire entanglements and sand bags, much like the defense used in the world war. They are also supplied with an abundance of firearms. It is believed that the Irish republican army is equally well armed and stationed, and the readiness of both sides is pointed to as a reason for quick establishment of the Irish commission.

The Sinn Féin in Belfast, after a meeting last night, sent a telegram to Prof. John MacNeill, speaker of the Dail Eireann in Dublin, as follows:

"On behalf of the religious and political minority in Belfast, forming 100,000 citizens, we protest against the misleading and lying statements contained in the telegram addressed by Craig (Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, to the premier of England, in which he states that the recent murderous atrocities to which our people have been subjected were the outcome of the rats in Tyrone and Fermanagh, and the affair at the Clones station.

"We assert that it can easily be proved our people were being murdered almost daily for a week before either of the occurrences mentioned. Furthermore, we are convinced that Craig deliberately made this misrepresentation for the purpose of exciting or justifying the cruel and cold blooded murders being inflicted on the minority in this city, on whose behalf we speak."

Withdrawal of Troops
DUBLIN, Feb. 17 (By the Associated Press).—The British military evacuation of Ireland is expected to be resumed today or tomorrow. It was declared by Michael Collins, head of the provisional Irish government, on his return yesterday from London where he interviewed Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for colonies.

General Sir C. F. Nevill Macleod, British military commander in Ireland, visited Mr. Collins in the afternoon and their conversation, it was assumed, was in connection with the withdrawal of the troops.

Mr. Collins last night sent a lengthy telegram to the British colonial secretary declaring that the best help the provisional government could have in its present difficulties was for England faithfully to carry out the Anglo-Irish treaty in all its particulars.

Prospects of the Irish parliamentary election being held in April are much discussed, and it is said that a daily newspaper devoted to the interests of the Free State, to counteract the influence of the Republic of Ireland, the organ of the De Valera party, will be established in preparation for the campaign.

FOR MEDIUM HEIGHT

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The coolie hat, a Marie Louise design, is an interesting variation of "just hat." The queer pointed crown which softly begins at the edge of the brim, is of shimmering beautiful silver cloth and gracefully draped with peacock feathers.

Such a crown, however, is a dangerous thing for the girl who is either above or below medium height. The too tall girl will find her height greatly emphasized by the wearing of pointed crowns, while the really short girl is apparently shortened by the spreading sides of the crown. Only the girl who strikes, in height, that happy medium can successfully wear a coolie hat.

FREE To Ruptured Men, Women and Children

Rupture experts representing Wm. S. Rice of Adams, N. Y., inventor of the famous Rice Non-Surgical Treatment for Rupture, will be at the New American Hotel, Lowell, Mass., February 20 and 21. Every ruptured man, woman or parents of ruptured children should take advantage of this opportunity to get an absolutely FREE TRIAL of this famous Rice Treatment.

The Rice Method for rupture is known the whole world over. You can now obtain it on trial without risking a single penny. Simply go to the hotel and ask for the Rice representative. A lady attendant will care for all women and children who call. No matter if your rupture is hard to hold or of long standing or what you have tried in your efforts to cure it, the trial is for everyone who is ruptured, whether young or old. If you have tried everything else and failed, you still have the privilege of this free trial of the Rice Method. If your rupture has hampered and annoyed you in your work or pleasure, now is the opportunity to learn how perfectly the Rice Method is adapted to your case, and how easily it can be applied to any rupture.

Why wear a truss all your life when thousands have reported cures through using the Rice Method? Why suffer the burden of rupture if there is a chance to be free from truss-wearing forever? You want to be relieved of your rupture, so why not take advantage of this opportunity and find out what the Rice Method holds in store for you. Thousands of formerly ruptured sufferers have been able to throw away their old-fashioned steel and spring trusses after using the Rice Method, so why not you? It will not cost you a penny to test this out, and surely there can be no more positive proof of confidence in my Method than to let you try it free. I can afford to make you this offer because it is to convince you in your own mind that this is a vastly different, scientific and successful Method for rupture.

In justice to yourself, go to the hotel and see the Rice representatives. They will be in Lowell only two days, and you should grasp the opportunity now. Remember with the Rice Method there is no operation, pain, danger or detention from work or pleasure. You can go about your daily duties with greater comfort than you have ever thought possible. Anyway the trial is free, so you can go to the hotel and see for yourself just what the Rice representatives have to offer. You do not place yourself under the slightest obligation by accepting this invitation, and this FREE TRIAL will prove a revelation to every ruptured person in Lowell and vicinity.

Remember the dates and place: New American Hotel, Lowell, Mass., February 20 and 21. Hours 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., 7 to 9 evenings. Don't miss the free trial.

Suffered Two Years with Asthma—Restored to Health by Wincarnis

Mrs. Jennie Hamblet, 14 Chandler St.
Nashua, N. H. could not sleep nor eat.

Lungs filled with mucus—could not take deep breath, kept growing weaker and weaker—Now well.

Edward Lasero, Inc.,
100 West 33rd Street
New York City

Dear Sirs:

You have no idea what a joy it is to me to tell you about my own case. I began suffering from asthma about two years ago. The attacks soon became so frequent and severe that it was almost impossible for me to lie down in comfort or to get any sleep at all in bed. There was so much thick and sticky mucus in my lungs that I could not take a deep breath. My attacks were made so much worse by eating that I simply could not consume enough food to nourish my body.

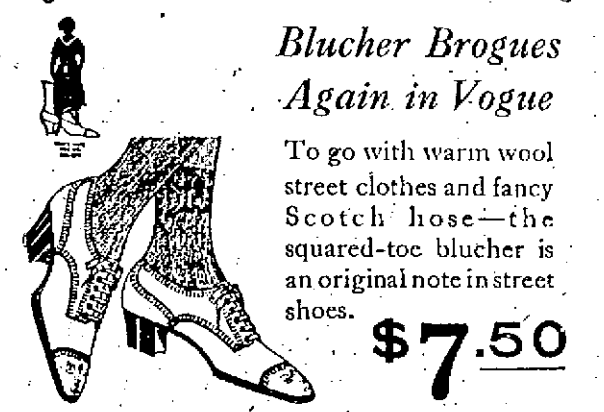

In time, I lost so much flesh and strength that I was scarcely able to do any work at all. I tried all sorts of medicines, but continued to grow weaker and feel more and more run-down and utterly miserable. Finally, my druggist suggested that I try Wincarnis, knowing that nothing else had done me any good. I began to feel wonderfully improved before I had finished taking the first bottle. I have taken five bottles and really feel like a new person. I now sleep soundly, am refreshed when I wake up, eat any and every sort of food, have an abundance of energy and very seldom have a return of my old attacks.

I do wish every sufferer from asthma or extreme weakness would try Wincarnis, for it certainly is the most wonderful of all tonics and it restores one's strength so quickly. You may publish this letter of appreciation of what Wincarnis has done for me if you like.

Yours very truly
(Signed) Mrs. Jennie Hamblet

MOTHER AND SON KILLED BY JEALOUS MAN

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 17.—The divorced wife of Walter Pike of Brockton was shot and killed in her apartment here late yesterday afternoon. Her son, Robert, aged five, was also shot and instantly killed. The assassin was Alfred Kosechay, a confectioner of this city, who had known Mrs. Pike here before her marriage to the Brockton man. He had called on her since her divorce and her return to her home here, police say.

Kosechay, having killed mother and son, turned the revolver on himself, but made only a flesh wound. He gave himself up at the home of his brother. On the way to the hospital he remarked to the police sergeant that he had shot Mrs. Pike and her son in her apartment. The police found the bodies in the bedroom.

Mrs. Pike, formerly Miss Margaret Sullivan of Newport, was saleswoman in the store of the Kosechay brothers here before her marriage. Jealousy prompted the double tragedy, according to the police.

LOWELL BARBERS STILL ON STRIKE

The International board of the Barbers' union has notified the local journeymen now on strike in 11 shops, that an organizer will be sent to Lowell to handle the proceedings connected with the strike. It is expected that another meeting will be held with the several master barbers who are now conducting open shops.

One shop has sent for its union card, granting the demands of the employees on the $26 per week and one-half over $23 plan. There was no change in the situation affecting the other shops this morning.

WORLD'S AMATEUR TYPEWRITING CHAMPION GAVE DEMONSTRATION AT LOWELL HIGH SCHOOL TODAY

Miss Marion C. Wanner, world's amateur typewriting champion, gave a typewriting demonstration before several hundred of the commercial pupils of the Lowell high school this morning. Miss Wanner won the international amateur championship at the New York annual business show on Oct. 17, 1921, writing 127 words per minute for one-half hour. In one minute she wrote 171 words in the demonstration this morning. Miss Wanner wrote at speeds ranging from 150 to 171 words a minute.

GROGERS AND BUTCHERS

"The Story of Spices" was related in an interesting manner by E. J. Carter of the D. L. Shade Co. of Boston, before the members of the Lowell Grocers' and Butchers' association last evening. Numerous lantern slides were used to illustrate the talk, some pictures having been secured in the far east. All grocers and butchers, whether members or not, are cordially invited to attend meetings of a similar sort that are to be held regularly from now on.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS IN "HOLD OUT LEAGUE"

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—These are parlous days for the New York Yankees. Baseball calls it a "hold out session," but the situation is described as a strike in labor circles.

Babe Ruth, lambaste extraordinary of the horsehide, thinks he ought to have more money—and measures the more in thousands. Little Aaron Ward, keeper of the keystone sack, lets it be known from South Ark. that he wants his salary increased to $10,000, and won't play the second season until he gets it.

Of the pitchers, Walter Hoyt is the only one to come to terms so far. "Billet Joe" Bush and Sam Jones, obtained from the Boston Red Sox, feel that their "advancement" entitles them to increased salaries. Bob Shawkey, famous for his red undersleeves, is firm in his opinion that he, too, is deserving of a little monetary gain, and Carl Mays, of the subway slouts, talks about a bigger check for 1922.

Meanwhile the Yankee owners declare they will not stand for anything unreasonable.

H. F. KUTHER'S THEATRE

Tripping melodies and a finale of instrumental uniqueness, characterize the splendid act of the Quixey Four, which is jointly headlined with Davis & Darnell, at the H. F. Kuther theatre this week. The four men of the quartet know well how to interest audiences. Davis & Darnell in "Birdseed" have a snappy conversational skit, while Doris Duncan, the singing comedienne, is rated as one of the best "single" entertainers of the season. Her work is wonderfully good. "The Editor of the Assassinated Press," played by George Yeoman and Lizzie, is a novel sketch. Other acts of the week's bill are: Boyie & Bennett, dancers; Diamond & Hart, Cossack and physical culture act, and Harry De Coe, equilibrist.

RIALTO THEATRE

Hope Hampton appearing in "Stardust" was the feature of an excellent program which opened at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon. On the bill was delightful Billy Rhodes comedy, "The Star Reporter." It is booked for the remainder of the week so don't fail to see it.

Max Sennett's latest comedy production "Molly O" starring Mabel Normand in the leading role will be the attraction of the Rialto theatre next week. Just now Mabel is very much in the public eye. "Molly O" is said to be the best she has yet undertaken.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Tyrone Power in "Footfalls," a stirring dramatic production, and Bebe Daniels in "The Speed Girl" are now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre.

SUNDAY AT THE STRAND

The big attraction at the Strand for Sunday will be Prince Napoleon's famous Jazz band of seven people. This unusual offering will head a program of exceptional worth. The act is one that has been featured in Boston and has been creating no end of favorable comment. The remainder of the vaudeville bill and the motion pictures, including "Tom Moore in 'Hold Your Horses,'" will surely satisfy the desires of all patrons. Don't miss seeing and thoroughly enjoying one of the best Sunday offerings of the season.

THE STRAND

Dustin Farnum, one of the real screen favorites, in "The Primal Law," is one of the attractions on the Strand program for the week-end that is meeting with genuine approval from all sides. It's a characteristic Farnum picture story and its enactment by the star and the assisting company is excellent. Corinne Griffith in "Reckless Payment" is a startlingly true-to-life story that you will enjoy.

OPERA HOUSE

It is easy to understand why Miss Maguerite Fields and her own company are playing to capacity audiences at all performances at the Opera House this week, after witnessing the presentation of the strong dramatic creation, "The Acquittal." It is positively the best and most artistic stock attraction for seasons and yet surely rank among the best for seasons to come. If you haven't seen it, don't fail to make the most of the remaining opportunities.

Next week Nell Burgess' great rural comedy drama, "The County Fair," will be offered with its songs, dances, quip and wit and last but not least the big spectacular horse race. Just think of it, a real horse race right on the stage. Order your tickets well in advance.

ALLEN'S LUNG HEALER

Hundreds of men people have been cured of severe lung coughs by this wonderful remedy, many of whom have either written or told us of their experience. Following is the written testimony of one of the hundreds gratefully given:

Mr. H. J. Allen:
Dear Sir:—Several months ago I contracted a very heavy cold on my lungs. The lungs were sore and congested and I was in a serious condition. I had heard so much about your Lung Healer and the many cures it had wrought in similar cases, I thought I would try it. The first dose relieved me as did each succeeding dose, and when the bottle was used up I was practically well again. I am satisfied that the Lung Healer saved me from having pneumonia.

melodrama from the pen of the famous novelist, Leroy Scott, will be shown at the Crown theatre for two days, beginning today. In this thrilling picture, the power of a leader of the underworld is seen to reach into the very halls of justice. Political heroes are the pawns of the mighty character who controls them through fear and through a secret organization of colts and robbers. However, the leader of this gang is undone by a woman, a fact that has often occurred in reality.

Lon Chaney, who will be remembered for his remarkable characterization of a legless thug in the Goldwyn production of "The Penalty," has the leading part in "The Night Rose." All the other leading parts are filled by such stiling players as Leatrice Joy, Betty Schade, Edythe Chapman, John Powers, Cullen Landis, Maurice D. Flynn and Richard Tucker. Wallace Worsley directed the picture.

SENATOR LODGE'S ATTACK

Senator Lodge recently attacking the republican members of the Massachusetts legislature, extolled the republican congress as having made a record unparalleled for economy and the amount of business transacted and charging that the democrats in congress by every artifice of delay and time wasting have done their utmost to make this congress a do-nothing body.

The suspension of many war activities, no longer necessary, has cut off many sources of expenditure, and this Senator Lodge sets down as proof of republican economy.

The senator must realize that such statements are too obviously groundless to receive credence among intelligent people. The republican congress has failed hopelessly in solving the great questions of reconstruction, notably that of taxation and the tariff. Recently the republican leaders are pointing to the great achievements of the arm conference, but public sentiment is not at all unanimous as to the merits of these alleged achievements. It is believed in many quarters that the treaties provided will be of much more benefit to England and Japan than to the United States, and that we have made no great a sacrifice to secure the agreements arrived at. Whether they will be adopted by the republican congress is not yet certain, but inasmuch as Senator Lodge is the republican leader and as some democrats are in favor of the treaties on account of Senator Underwood's influence, it is highly probable that they will be ratified.

In spite of what Mr. Lodge says, it is an indisputable fact that the republican congress is largely responsible for prolonging the business depression because of its failure to give the country a rational revision of the taxation system, and because of its failure to enact a permanent tariff law.

The chief trouble with the republican congress is that it lacks progressive leadership. Unfortunately the president, who undoubtedly is doing the best he can, is not gifted with the qualities of decision or foresight necessary to a successful leader. In his present position he shows the same tendency to vacillation and indecision that characterized his active campaign for election. Undesirable of his cabinet ministers offer progressive counsel and guidance, the president will still continue to flounder, while the business of the country suffers from the delay. Congress in most of the great questions waits for the presidential edict; but it fails to receive any clear-sighted direction from President Harding. This course of republican failure will not be mentioned by Senator Lodge, who is now entering upon his campaign for re-election in the fall.

FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

The question of repeating the daylight saving law is up again in the legislature, the prime movers being the farmers and others who have, as it were, a surplus of sunlight and apparently do not realize the great necessity of an additional hour of fresh air and sunlight for the workers in the dingy factories, workshops and stores.

The present movement for the repeal of the law ignores the benefits derived from recreation in the sunlight. This is in line with the advantages of public playgrounds and recreation parks, for the reason that it brings the people out from the congested districts, from the din of the busy streets to the public park or the ball field, where they enjoy fresh air and sunshine, both of which are limited in supply in the factories and workshops. Physicians now come forward to testify that since the enactment of the daylight saving law, the death rate from tuberculosis has been much reduced. This is what might be expected on account of the great health benefits derived from recreation during the hours of sunshine.

In opposition to the repeal of this law, a vast number of chambers of commerce and other business and manufacturing interests have hastened to lend their influence, feeling that the repeal would be an injury to the masses.

Perhaps there is no class of people who derive more benefits from daylight saving than those who work in the mills and factories in a city such as Lowell. Here the workers can get together in the public parks or on the ball fields to witness the games of the twilight leagues or such other sports as may be carried on by the younger element. Those who cultivate home gardens have time to devote to them after working hours before sundown.

Some objection has been made on account of the confusion of time between places where this law prevails and those that run upon the regular time schedule. It seems that this confusion has been rather exaggerated beyond its proper limits. In some places along the dividing line, it will be rather inconvenient, of course, but this is more than counterbalanced by the great benefits derived from the additional hours of daylight enjoyed by the vast majority of the people.

EXTENDING THE POSSIBLE

Could you keep a fire burning under water? It has just been done, 50 feet under the surface of New York harbor. Near Staten Island, a 36-inch steel water pipe on the floor of the ocean was smashed by a dredge. It had to be cut away.

Divers came up out of the muddy depths and reported that the water immediately extinguished their steel-cutting acetylene torches. But an "underwater fire chisel" has been developed by a company that salvages submarine wrecks. This chisel was brought into play. As it burns, it generates a gas which forces back the water on all sides, leaving an open or hollow space for the flame. That is scientific magic.

If the inventor had lived 500 years ago, his exhibition would have made even kings kneel to him in superstitious terror.

Suppose you were in the hands of enemies, about to be shot, and they told you "Well spare your life if you can light a fire under water and keep it burning."

Your answer probably would be, "It can't be done"—even though your life depended on it.

Yet it can be done, as in the device used under water near Staten Island, an electric spark starting the flame.

Learn from this how many things are possible that appear impossible. Archimedes, who discovered the principle of the fulcrum, said he could move the earth if some one gave him a fulcrum, a long enough lever and something away from the earth to stand on.

Nothing seemed impossible to Archimedes.

Yet, if he'd been asked to weigh the earth, he probably would have said it couldn't be done unless he had a big enough pile of scales and a star to rest them on.

Modern scientists, with a delicate mechanism which measures the attractive power of lead and other elements, have discovered that the earth is about six times as heavy as an equivalent bulk of water.

Thus the earth has been accurately weighed—found to tip the scales at 6000 billions of billions of tons.

Such staggering achievements should inspire all troubled and discouraged people. All problems can be solved. The solution is found by the one who never gives up the fight, who refuses to recognize the phantom, defeat. N.E.A.

GOOD INVESTMENTS

The day before he departed from the office of United States postmaster general to accept a new $150,000 position with "the movies" in order to assist the folks of the screen in presenting their wares a little more respectably and, of course, more profitably, Will H. Hays, addressed the following letter to Postmaster Meahan of Lowell, with other postmasters the country over:

"The postoffice department has a real opportunity now to be of financial service to the government and it is my hope that every postmaster will take hold of these treasury savings securities and dispose of them to the greatest possible amount. The difference between doing something to sell these securities and doing nothing, will each year mean to the government millions of dollars. We are going to tell in bulletin form from time to time just what some postmasters have accomplished in developing postal savings deposits and selling treasury savings securities. We are glad to pass the information along for the benefit of all."

This letter, we are informed, produced a quick response on the part of postoffice employees all over the country, and the Lowell office, one of the first to receive Mr. Hays' retraining message, has also responded in a way that makes a new record for this city's postal establishment.

SECY MELLON'S CASE

That is a startling charge made by Senator Watson of Georgia that Secretary Mellon of the treasury is holding office illegally and could be arrested and punished if anybody wished to enforce the law against him on account of holding his present office while engaged in another business. The secretary is very wealthy and he has been making the practical arbiters of the $11,000,000,000 foreign debt. It is an awkward situation and one under which A. T. Stewart resigned under like circumstances.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHT

Abraham Lincoln worked out problems in arithmetic by the light from an open fireplace, chinking stumps on a shovel. In George Washington's day, the night watchman who patrolled the dark streets carried an iron lantern, the candle light showing through small holes. We moderns do not appreciate the tremendous luxury we have in the simple matter of artificial light. Thus was, when man's only dispellers of darkness were the moon and the glare of the campfire. Following day, man was unable to use his spare night time for freedom of movement, recreation and study, until incandescent lights began perfecting artificial illumination. We have many benefactors in history, but among the greatest are Edison, Westinghouse, and the host of others who revealed to us how to turn night into day.

There seems to be no sign of reduction in rents and the price of fuel. If this year brings an increase in the tax rate, it will mean an increase in rents in some quarters, which the people are not prepared to stand; but of course actual necessities must be met at any cost.

The bill of Joseph E. Warner against J. A. Governor Fuller, promises to bring out much inside dope on the connection between Beacon Hill and certain banking institutions in Boston.

It is up to the republican leaders to stop looting and get to work in removing the obstacles to business progress.

The city council in voting to appropriate $30,000 to be expended in giving work to the unemployed, is doing nothing an urgent public necessity. Yes, it is cold, very cold for the families with empty coal bins and there are many such in Lowell.

SEEN AND HEARD

Oxford dictionary finished after 43 years ought to have the last word in dictionaries.

Our prediction is that we will all see better days soon. Spring is on the way.

An 84-year-old woman has married for the seventh time. Wonder if she knows every seventh marriage in this country is a failure?

A Thought For Today

"Do the duty which lies nearest thee," which thou knowest to be a duty. Thy second duty will already have become clearer.—Thomas Carlyle.

Only Two Seasons

"The teacher in an east side school-room had been telling the class about the four seasons, then she began her questioning. 'How many seasons have we?' she asked Rachel. 'Two, Miss,' replied the little daughter of New York's sweatshop district, 'black and busy.'"

The Trusty Servant

"You say your mistress is away? I suppose she would not object to my taking a few scenes in her grounds?" said a film producer. "I don't suppose so," said the trusty servant, "but you mustn't come 'round afterward bothering her to buy the photographs."

A Word a Day

Today's word is blue. It is pronounced bluish. It means a group in any political assembly, such as congress or a legislature, that votes together, independently of party lines. It comes from French "bleu," a blue or solid piece. It's used like this—"The agricultural bloc in congress has influenced the passage of many farm measures."

Oldest Inhabitant's Opinion

The village worthies were discussing the veracity of one of their neighbors, and the oldest inhabitant, an old farmer, they appealed to for his opinion. "Would I call him Perkins a liar?" repeated the old man. "Well, I don't know as I'd go so far as that; but I tell you when I see him feeding them comes he can't get his pigs to stir until he gets some one else to call them for him."

The Runaway Age

Fifteen is now the average age at which girls run away from home, says an official of Travelers' Aid society. The age is lower than it used to be. That's more serious than the increased number of disappearances. Old-time melodramas had one advantage over modern movies. They painted a truer picture of what happens to most runaway girls. Fifty they passed out because villains over-rid their purses and turned melodrama into farce. The story of Missing Women is worse than Port Said.

Smart Travelling Man

According to a tale that hails from the middle west a travelling man once said to the proprietor of a livery stable: "What is the price for a rig to go over to Blankville?" "Ten dollars," he replied. After the journey had been taken the owner of the horses and carriage said: "Traveler, I asked to explain, he asked, 'Ten dollars over and 10 back.' The next time the travelling man came he again inquired, 'What is the price for a rig to go over to Blankville?' 'Ten dollars,' again answered the liveryman. Several days later the travelling man reappeared without the rig and handed the stableman $10. 'But where is my rig?' demanded its owner. 'Over at Blankville,' said his patron. 'All I wanted to do was to go over.'"

Dreaming

How sweet it is to sit and dream. While others toil and mull and strive; To fancy things are what they seem, And feel so good in their own dream. What joy it is to let the brain imagine most unlikely things. Forgetting life is dull and plain. And letting fancy spread her wings!

To sit and dream! What pure delight it gives us in these busy days. To follow Fancy in her flight Through cornel paths and Milky Ways! What bliss and ecstasy to sit and dream in castle in the air; But there's one drawback, you'll admit— It doesn't get you anywhere! —Somerville Journal.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

It is believed that this city will have more or less influenza throughout the winter, but not necessarily or probably, an epidemic. There is a great deal of sickness at the present time, with hard grippe colds predominating, and from this prevalence some cases of influenza must develop. So far locally there have been two deaths reported in which influenza was named as a contributory cause. But at no time, however, has the disease become epidemic to an alarming extent and as far as can be learned practically everywhere reported to date has been light in character. Naturally people worry not a little about influenza because of its terrible ravages of just a few years ago, but this should tend toward more carefulness against undue exposure and the taking of exceptional precautions. We do not attempt to create an impression that the disease is a state of mind, but unnecessary worry does not help.

I am told that an interesting feature of the Eastern Dog club show, in Mechanics building, Boston, next week, will be the exhibition of a mystery dog, a canine specimen with bright red hair. According to the dog's owner, no one has yet succeeded in classifying its breed, although various people have called it a red Abashin, a red fox, and others claim it is a mixture of several breeds. As the dog was purchased in Germany some time ago, and it is known that many German dogs are difficult to identify, considerable speculation is manifested as to whether anyone will be able to classify it correctly. There will be many consequences at the show, there may be a possibility of the question being definitely settled. Just now the committee in charge asks "What is it?"

It was pleasing indeed to listen to the lecture on advertising delivered Wednesday night by Frank A. Black of the William Fiske's Sons' store of Boston before over 100 members of the Lowell Advertising club and its friends. Mr. Black was not an orator. He warned his audience of that fact as part of a prophecy to his remarks. But the fine thing about his talk was its simplicity, directness and interesting manner in which it was delivered. Every sentence contained a fact of value to those assembled. And in passing it may be said that the club itself is maintaining its interest in affairs. At every one of its weekly gatherings, which are held in the form of a luncheon, at least 50 men and women have been present. It would seem that this club is out to accomplish its ends, and to make a mark along with other live organizations of the city. Secretary Francis J. Gallagher, Jr., chairman, looks after the business arrangements of the club, is much elated with its success from an educational standpoint. The members also thoroughly enjoy the weekly exchange of ideas on business problems.

The election of Harry O'Sullivan as commander of Lowell Chapter 5, Disabled Veterans Assn. of America seems to have met with approval from all sides. Recently the commander-elect was installed in office by State Commander Green. Mr. O'Sullivan has been a tireless worker for his organization. He has been a delegate to nearly every convention and during the tag day, held several weeks ago, he worked night and day on the plans so that success might reward the workers. It is the wish of his many friends that his organization will enjoy a prosperous term under his leadership.

GAELIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS LADIES' NIGHT

The Lowell Gaelic association held another of its enjoyable ladies' nights in its Central street quarters last evening, with a crowd in attendance that taxed the capacity of the hall. These dancing parties have been thoroughly enjoyed by the members and their ladies throughout the winter, and with but one more in prospect before the beginning of Lent one and all are planning to take full advantage of this staid opportunity, and hope for a continuation after Easter.

These parties are conducted in the inimitable Irish style, with music furnished by a violin orchestra of three pieces, and most of the dances of the "square" variety, making it necessary to have an experienced man with the orchestra to call out the various movements. Waltzes, one-steps and fox trots are interspersed, but the crowd shows far more interest in the quadrilles and other square dances. In addition to conducting these parties, the young men of Gaelic ancestry who form the association conduct athletic events on a pretentious scale, including Gaelic football and hurling, and were the first to take the initiative in this city in connection with the teaching of the Gaelic tongue, a movement which is gaining momentum throughout the country.

OLD SHIRT OF WILSON'S SOLD

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 17.—One of ex-President Wilson's castoff shirts, made into dining aprons, brought the top price at a charity auction here conducted by the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for the education of an orphan girl. Other shirts were contributed by Thomas A. Edison, Jack Dempsey, Henry Ford and other notables.

ZEDELER CONCERT AT GRACE CHURCH

Nicolai Zedeler appeared at the Grace Universalist church last night with his symphonic quintet rendering a program of instrumental and vocal numbers.

Before each of the less familiar sections Mr. Zedeler explained their characterizations and also told something about their composers. His instrument was the violin and he was assisted by Mrs. Zedeler, piano; Paul Clark and Louis Poppo, violins; Mrs. Henry Booth, soprano.

The program was both entertaining and instructive and well received by a large number of people who braved the cold blasts of last night to be present.

HEILMAN AND LEONARD WANT $15,000 EACH

DETROIT, Feb. 17.—Harry Heilmann, outfielder, and Hubert Leonard, pitcher, have refused to sign new contracts calling for $10,000 and $9,000, respectively, and the Detroit club has declined to meet their request for $15,000 each, Frank J. Navin, president of the Tigers, announced last night. Heilmann is champion batter of the American league.

Heilmann retained his contract, which called for an advance of $2500, according to President Navin, but wrote a letter asking for the additional $5000. Leonard, he said, returned his contract.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem The Peddler

There was a young man with a dream to sell
(Or that is the story the neighbors will tell)
And he peddled his dream about the town—
But practical people all turned him down,
For a wise man knows, as he plots and schemes,
That it's silly to buy such stuff as dreams!

So the foolish young fellow went on his way,
Hoping to market his dream some day,
And the wise men called him a "silly fool"
And treated his offer with ridicule;
And they cried "Begone! You're a ne'er-do-well,
With nothing at all but dreams to sell!"

Yet, after a while, the young man sold
His dream for riches and fame untold
And the "practical men" all muttered, then,
"Oh well, believe me—I knew him when!"
And they called him lucky, for who can tell
What dreams are worth, till at length they sell?

The peddler of dreams grew old and gray.
When a young man happened along his way
With a dream to sell; but the old man said
With a shake of his grizzled and wise old head,
"Begone! Begone with your silly schemes,
You've nothing at all to sell but dreams!"

In which the figures were the same as last year.

President Navin said he explained to Heilmann that the club had made its best offer and that the raise embodied in the new contract was in recognition of Heilmann's work last year.

Navin added he was informing the pitcher that he considered his demand "an announcement of your retirement from baseball."

CASES TODAY IN THE DISTRICT COURT

In the regular session of district court today, Andrew Samaris appeared in answer to a charge of illegal keeping, as the result of a raid on his premises by Federal Officers Sheldon and Bowers and Sergeant Winn of the liquor squad. At the time of the raid a large still, a quantity of moonshine and a great deal of distilling apparatus was seized, but Samaris was not arrested until later. Samaris pleaded guilty, and was fined $100 by Judge Wright.

Another case bearing on the larceny of coal in the railroad yards by boys was brought to the attention of the court this morning, when a woman was brought to trial for receiving stolen property. According to the testimony, several boys called at the woman's home and offered her a quantity of coal for 50 cents, which she purchased. She said that she thought it the cheapest way to secure fuel, as her husband was out of work and there are small children, the oldest four years of age. The railroad officers alleged that they went to the house with the boys, and she had admitted making the purchase, but had not paid the boys the 50 cents, promising to pay later on. The officers of the railroad recommended that the case be placed on file with the understanding that she would be more careful in the future, and the judge acquiesced, warning her of the serious nature of the offense.

BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating
Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's vicious waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overworking kidneys; trouble while it is only trouble.—Ad.

Coal Strike Probable

Aspects of the situation agree that the facts present a danger and a most serious one if the public continues unaware of the real state of affairs.

"The fact that the existing wage agreements expire at the same time in both the anthracite and bituminous coal industries makes the situation more serious than otherwise might be. We feel that the general public should be forewarned, so that steps may be taken to assure an adequate coal supply during the period of possible shut-down."

The conflicting positions of the operators and the miners, as well as the nature and variety of the proposals to be considered, Mr. Coonley said, "make a settlement before April 1 extremely improbable."

After reviewing the demands of the United Mine Workers and of the operators the statement asserted that the production of bituminous coal had been rapidly increasing since Jan. 1, largely due to demands increased by strike rumors.

"Reports from dealers in important cities vary," Mr. Coonley said, "but on the whole, their stocks are adequate for the ordinary demands of a month to six weeks. Many consumers appear to be holding off to watch developments. This is true in New England, especially where mills are faced by local strikes."

BROWN BEATS CASTLE BIG BASKETBALL GAMES

Substitute for Britt Lands Decision in Hurricane Bout
—Murray Whips Thomas

The boxing star of Mike Castle, the pride of Lawrence and adjacent hamlets, does not shine so brightly today. In fact it's only twinkling and blinking a bit, and all because Frankie Britt hurt his knee a couple of days ago. But here's the story that has caused John Wagner, Castle's manager, to order a few yards of crepe for the left count meers. Britt and Castle were scheduled to meet in a 10-round bout before the Moody A.C. last night in the Crescent arena. Britt was injured by slipping on the ice and, accordingly, Frankie Wagner was forced to seek a substitute. Mr. Dodge looked high and low for a boxer of note to do a little crashing with Castle. Unable to get Chick Suggs, Al Shubert or a number of others, he stumbled on to Newport Johnny Brown. Newport John made his bow in green flannels before a packed house, went a round like a champion and was awarded the bout after 10 rounds of as fast boxing as ever was seen here. The decision seemed a popular one, and from the fact that Brown was a member of the team from Newport deserved the verdict. However, there were four or five hundred rovers from Lawrence who thought differently.

Castle appeared to be a little better man at boxing, but a fighter cannot expect to win a bout simply by taking a left jab. It may be that Lawrence Mike jabbed Brown's head off, but he was not quite as aggressive, nor did he land as solid punches as the Newport miller. Brown used a long left jab that did telling work especially in the last round. He also packed a neat right uppercut which he landed several times with great effect. Brown took few backward steps during the bout and kept bring in unimpaired and with little respect for Castle's left. Brown did a great deal of infusing but when he did land the thumps were solid and damaging. Castle carried off the honors in the first round, although Brown went at him like a wildcat. Brown took the second and had a slight edge in the third. The fourth round was about even, while Brown again got a shade in the fifth. The sixth was another even affair, but here again Brown flashed and annexed the seventh by a shade. Castle took a brace in the eighth and indicated a desire to be wiser. The ninth was about even but the last, a hair-raising session, was easily Brown's.

JOHNSON SAYS GAME HAS SLOWED UP SINCE WAR

By WALTER JOHNSON
Do you think the game has improved since you joined the American League in 1907?

By question, Talk with the veteran of 20 years ago and he will admit the game has come back. Speak to the star of 20 years ago and he will offer the same opinion.

It seems to be customary for star players to always believe the period in which they happened to be a star was the time when baseball was at its peak.

I am going to be a bit different from the ordinary run. I am positive that the game showed a gradual improvement from the time I entered in 1907 until about 1913 or 1914.

Then for various reasons it seems to me that the game started to slow up when the United States got into the world war, yes a year or two before that, the game suffered a severe slump.

Players who have been in the American League from 10 to 15 years will frankly admit that the standard of play has been much lower for the last four or five years.

It doesn't seem to me that the clubs are playing as much real baseball as they once did. Few players now take any chance on the bases. Most batters are thinking of the home run hit, rather than pulling something out of the ordinary.

I feel that the lively ball has done much to change the game as far as playing any lively ball.

The lively ball, and the deeds of Babe Ruth have caused all the hitters to change their attitude before the inside stuff. In addition the education of track pitching has further added to the confidence of the batter. From the way the attendance records have been broken in the last few years, however, it seems the public likes the slugging style of play.

Tomorrow Johnson tells what he regards as his best pitching performance.

C. Y. M. L. vs. Lowell Five—Textile to Play University of Vermont.

Indications point to a record turnout and a hectic combat at the Crescent rink tonight, when the C.Y.M.L. and Lowell Five will meet in the fourth game of the series to decide the city's basketball championship. The standing to date is C.Y.M.L. two victories and Lowell Five one. A victory for the lycium tonight means the title and the end of the series. A reverse will prolong the series.

Both teams are out to land the verdict, the lycium feeling that with Martin in the lineup, they cannot be beaten. The opposition team, with their backs to the wall, are determined to turn on the lycium quintet and even up the series.

Manager Foley of the C.Y.M.L. will select his team from Foley, Martin, Randall, Lockwood, Twomey, T. Flynn and E. Flynn. The Lowell Five will be picked from the following players: Wynn, Ryan, Lew, Keenan, Desmond, Leppner, Descheneaux, Richards and Tierney.

The game will start at 8 o'clock, with Jimmy Grant holding the whistle. Textile vs. Vermont.

The Lowell Textile Basketball team will play another hard game when it meets the University of Vermont team on the Moody street floor tonight. Local teams are pretty confident of a victory and although it went down before the U.V.M. had in a game last week has taken on a new lease of life after winning from Boston colleges.

Mathews and Smith will be in better shape for their contest tonight than they were last Tuesday. Smith's shoulder is coming back, but it is a long time before he will be ready for some fast work. It is probable Mathews will be sent to his old place at guard and Schneider sent to the forward berth in this combination worked the best in the recent game.

The Vermonters have a fast aggregation of basketball players and will make the going pretty hot for the red and black suited team.

The Chelmsford American Legion basketball team added another victory Wednesday night when it defeated the Westford A. A. in the town hall by a score of 26 to 18.

One of the most amateur basketball games of the season is promised for tonight when the Triangle team will swap passes with the rangers of the five in St. Anne's parish house. The Triangle have a good team and have traveled all over the state in the past three years with great success. The rangers will be with the team tonight and will Kenneth Lynch of Washington, D. C., who is spending a vacation with relatives in the city. The Triangle would like to meet any aggregation in the city for a series to be played in the Crescent rink. A representative of the team may be found at 456 Bridge street.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR TENNIS TEAM

St. John's Prep school is arranging a long schedule for its tennis team. Although it lost two of last year's matches, the team is expected to be one of the best in the city. Van Buren and Canning, who failed to return to school last fall, a successful season is expected. George Smith, captain of this year's Prep tennis team, ranks as one of the best schoolboy players and last fall won the singles in the October tournament.

The opening match of the season is with about six other teams already scheduled are Exeter, Boston English, Dorchester and Beverly. Matches are pending with four other schools. Tennis fans are wishing to schedule contests should communicate with John Egan, Xavier hall, St. John's Prep School, Danvers.

"Moose" Johnson, Hockey's Most Colorful Player, Quits Game After an Eventful Career

"MOOSE" USES THE LONGEST STICK IN THE GAME

been a big attraction. He preferred a business career, feeling that the same amount of effort in now fields would bring him greater returns. He has proved the wisdom of his choice.

In the hockey world, "Moose" Johnson for years has occupied much the same position as did Larry Lajoie in baseball.

For 21 years Johnson has been the hit of the hockey fans. He has been cheered and jeered with equal aplomb on the cheers. No matter what the reception he always played remarkable hockey.

Was the Lajoie of Hockey

Big and husky, he carried fear into the hearts of the opposing players when he took the puck down the ice. Criticism from the fan always brought out the best that was in him. Fighting and he would take chances that meant the constant flitting with serious injury.

His nose dives in an effort to beat some player to the puck, and his "poke check," in which he took a big chance of being slashed by opponents' skates, always provided a big thrill.

Johnson began playing in the east in 1901. His long reach, great speed and powerful build soon attracted much attention.

For years he starred with the Montreal Wanderers, the 1906 world champions, and for six years was either holder or runner-up for the Stanley cup, hockey's most prized trophy.

Johnson has the longest reach of any professional hockey player. He accurately this with the longest skates in the game, making him effective as far as 51 inches from the puck.

When the cheers of the home fans turned to jeers, Johnson decided he was through.

McGOWAN WINS SKATING TITLE

With the Old Time Diamond Heroes

A few years ago Harry Krause was one of the best left-handed pitching prospects to come up into the major leagues. Shortly after his arrival in the following article appeared about him.

Although it was an undertaker who discovered Henry Krause, the boy brilliance of the Philadelphia Athletics, working in California jungles and hustled him across the continent to Connie Mack, unbiased fans the country over unite in declaring the youthful left-wheeler is about the liveliest corpse a mechanic for the dead ever shipped over the Rocky Mountains.

But in all the work of the big league stars during the strenuous grind of 1909, nothing created such with comment as the phenomenal work of the 19-year-old lad, who received his early education on the San Francisco coast and was taken direct by Connie Mack from St. Mary's college team. He was recommended by former Chief Deputy Governor Peter McCormack of that city, an ardent fan, who knows a good ball player when he sees him, and who succeeded in inducing Krause to leave the big league to come to the coast by McCormack and take a look at the boy wonder. Krause was then hurrying them over for the St. Mary's college and was pitching his last game in an intercollegiate series that showed a string of 26 victories. The youngster did not know that the eyes of the big league magnate were upon him and he pitched the game of his life.

He was then in his 17th year, but Mack went wild over his work—slipping him a contract that was enough to make any youngster's heart stop beating, and went back east, where Krause had sufficiently recovered from the shock to affix his signature to a paper when he arrived at the stupendous grounds of the Athletics and Mack decided to farm him out for a year to Harrisburg, in the Tri-State League.

Longer Krause sat back for a year, where with his fine work, he won 18 wins out of 23 games pitched and the good work lost him to Harrisburg forever.

Mack gathered him into the fold and he started off with 10 straight wins for the Athletics. Up to his 11th game he had all the big league timber on the case of his hand. # International Spy Becomes Man Without a Country

IGNATIUS T. T. LINCOLN, THE INTERNATIONAL SPY

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Ignatius T. Lincoln, international spy, is now a man without a country. First, while German spy, English clergyman, member of parliament, British censor, the arch conspirator is in New York awaiting the action of the immigration authorities. He is charged with entering this country surreptitiously. If found guilty he will be deported.

"I don't know where they can send me," he said. "I've been expelled by almost every power. But I am not worrying. I'll find a way out. I always do."

Meanwhile he is writing the story of his life. "It sounds like fiction," he confided. "But it is true. When finished it will leave other thrillers far in the shade." He laughed—considerably pleased with himself.

He surely did make them step lively during the war. Sometimes it was the British; sometimes the Austrians. "I didn't care much which. It was exciting for them, too. But their experiences never rivaled mine. They were on the wrong side of the game."

Trapped in Germany
"In May, 1920, I was working for the German monarchists. I had to get into Berlin on a secret mission. A warrant was out for my arrest. I took the chance—and was caught at the railroad station."

"I tried the usual method—bribery. But the secret service agent was young. He refused my advances. I was facing the prospect of 20 years in a German prison—possibly death. "So I did some little talking. We stopped at a rest house. In a twinkling I jumped through a window, ran across the street with crowds at my heels and escaped. An hour later I was successfully hidden by friends. "There is nothing as stimulating as playing politics in the big way. It is not much of an art here. But in Europe—"I know all the leaders—the Kaiser, Lloyd George, Bethmann-Hollweg, Ludendorff. And they respected me, too. "I started going when I was 15. I ran away from home, became an editor and studied theology. Then graduation from a Montreal seminary. I joined the Church of England and became curate of a parish in Kent. "But I soon tired of the work. It was too monotonous. I wanted to be on the inside of things. So I went into politics and was elected to parliament as a Liberal. "With the war came the chance I had always wanted—to get mixed up in international affairs. "Lincoln was appointed censor of Hungarian correspondence. His activities got him into trouble. He was reprimanded and forced to resign. "Then went to Rotterdam," he continued. "I must have been shadowed. My visit was reported to the British war office and I had to skip to America."

Arrest and Escape
Here he wrote a series of revelations which led to his arrest. "Of course, I had worked for the Germans," said Lincoln. "And I didn't want to be sent back to England." "So he escaped from the custody of the United States marshal. After a month he was found and sent to England where he was confined to prison until the end of the war. "I asked my government to revoke my British citizenship," he said. "As I had formerly given up my allegiance to Austria-Hungary, I became a citizen of no country."

Goes to See Kaiser
He was then deported. He went to Amerongen to see the Kaiser. A few weeks later he had a new cause. "I marched into Berlin at the head of the Kapp army," he added with gusto. "I was out there in front of the procession of soldiers, generals and counter-revolutionists. But the revolt failed and I went to England." He became involved in the sale of some secret documents to the Czechoslovakian government and was arrested for fraud. "It took me three and a half months," Lincoln said smiling. "I was fore I got out of the house. But I was expelled. I went to Italy. There I did nothing. I wanted a chance to get into some quiet business. So I came on here. And now—" "I'm in trouble again!"

TAMMANY LEADER INDICTED
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—William P. Kennedy, Tammany district leader, was indicted yesterday with Robert P. Brindell, building trades labor leader, for extortion. They are alleged to have used their influence as officials of the building trades council to extort $3000 from Saul Hyman, a building contractor for calling off a strike in February, 1920. Brindell is serving the end of a Sing Sing sentence for a similar crime.

WOULD POSTPONE BONDS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A committee of disabled former service men and service men new patients at Walter Reed hospital, called on President Harding yesterday and left with him a petition asking postponement of bonus legislation until congress enacts legislation satisfying the disabled soldiers' demands as to insurance compensation.

GOV. COX 'TAKES NEST'
BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Gov. Channing H. Cox equipped with snowshoes and skates, left yesterday to spend a few days in the White Mountains of New Hampshire. Before leaving with Mrs. Hampshire, the governor said he had been a guest at one or more meetings every evening since the first of the year and would rest and recuperation. He will return next Tuesday.

HAS NINE GREAT-GREAT-GREAT GRANDCHILDREN

SABETHA, Kan., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Bertha Perkins, who will be 38 years old next April, found a real thrill recently when three additional great-grandchildren arrived in three Sabetha homes, within a period of 48 hours. They brought the number of her descendants up to 27.

Mrs. Perkins' five generations of descendants are divided as follows: 10 children, eight of whom are living; 75 grandchildren; 155 great-grandchildren; 25 great-great-grandchildren; 9 great-great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Perkins was born in Virginia, April 25, 1824, married David Perkins in Ohio, March 16, 1843. Her maiden name was Bertha Marcum. In 1843 they emigrated to Iowa, and in 1857 took a homestead in this—Nemaha county—where she has lived ever since. Mr. Perkins died in 1858.

"Good and old-fashioned cooking," is the recipe Mrs. Perkins gives for her longevity. "It is no wonder people do not live to old age like they used to, considering the rich foods they put in their stomachs nowadays. People do not eat enough coarse food. Cornbread once or twice a day would improve their health."

There are a few of her ideas as she expressed them. "I believe women should aid their husbands in voting right, but do not believe women should go into politics or vote. "Cooking courses in schools and colleges run too much to future and fancy dishes. I believe still that the best place for a girl to learn house-keeping and cooking is from her mother—but I am not doubtful whether some of these modern day mothers know much about such things. "Work is the best tonic. Why, I do something every day. In the summer time I take care of my vegetable garden. Last summer I raised so many vegetables I had them to pass around among the neighbors."

GIRLS! USE LEMONS TO WHITEN HANDS

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orinol White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten the rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerin and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

TO ORGANIZE FRIENDS OF IRISH FREE STATE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—A movement to supplement the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic by a new organization to be known as the Friends of the Irish Free State was announced yesterday by Francis J. Lowe.

A printed circular said the movement will be organized in New York by ex-Gov. Martin A. Glynn; in New Jersey by Major Eugene Kliska; and in Ill.

Mr. Lowe, said, Edward L. Doherty, president of the Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic had joined the new organization as one of the rank and file.
Support of the provisional government and its officials, Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith, in setting up the Free State, will be the object of the new organization, according to Mr. Lowe.

POSTHUMOUS WAR HONORS

Medals Received Here for Hero Killed in Action in France

Priv. Morin Commended for Distinguished Service and Gallant Action Under Fire

Armed with two 1914 and 1916 city directories, a couple of receipted post tax bills of the vintage of 1912 and a faded diary, year erased from the front cover, but containing the name of "A. Morin," and the address "Lowell bleachery, U.S.A.," a Sun reporter after three hours' search yesterday, discovered the former home of relatives of Private Alfred Morin, who was killed in action in France a year after he enlisted in an English regiment, deserting a berth on an American cattle boat to accept a dare of English comrades of the line.

For several days the postal authorities have been trying to locate Morin's relatives with the help of "The Sun," but clues appeared to be missing. The medals were improperly addressed, and the first name listed simply as "A." Attempts made to locate a Morin family on Middlesex place were successful enough, but the Morins there had no relatives in the British army in France.

At the last house on the right hand side, a man came to the door and said he was Henry Morin. He said he knew a gentleman named Morin—oh, yes! There was his picture on the wall in the parlor. Would the reporter come in and look at it? Yes, the name of the man in the picture was Arthur Morin. Yes, he was in the British army for one year, was mortally wounded in action and died soon afterward. Two medals were awarded Morin for bravery and distinguished service in action, but they had never been received. The family here had been looking for them for the past two months.

And then The Sun man told Mr. Bernard where the medals were. The man actually shouted in his astonishment and happiness.

"Well, sir, all I can say is that my daughter, who was Morin's wife, and her two fine children who were left fatherless by Morin when he died in France, will be mighty happy when they return home tonight and hear your story. They have been expecting those war medals for a long time. My daughter now has an English pension, but the money, you know, doesn't go very far. We have been very anxious to get the medals and preserve them. My son-in-law was certainly entitled to them and I thank The Sun for letting me know that they have arrived. I shall go down at once and get them from Mr. Meachum, who is a good friend of mine, by the way."

Private Morin was about 27 years old—possibly a little older. He lived in Betviders with his family, until work became slack and he decided to try the cattle boats. He had formerly worked for years in the old bleachery. He married Miss Blanche Bernard, daughter of Henry Bernard, of 11 Carlton street, where widow and child, drew two in number, a boy and a girl, aged 5 and 7 years respectively—now reside. Mrs. Morin, the war hero's widow, is now employed in Boston. He is also survived by two brothers, James and Bernard, well known employees of the street railway company, and two sisters, Mollie and Rose, the former being married.

Morin, according to the British government medal letter and official report accompanying the awards, is entitled to posthumous honors for bravery in action and special distinguished service under heavy fire, while a member of the famous Worcester-shire regiment. The medal award is No. 24,392 on the British books. The letter was forwarded to Mrs. Morin by the Infantry Record office, Warley, England. There is a bronze victory medal, with ribbons, and a crown medal, one rarely seen in Lowell. Both medals are stamped "1914-1918 British War Victory Medal."

Morin, according to his relatives here, joined the British army on a dare. He was returning from his second trip on the American boat, when someone shouted on the wharf: "White feather—Yankee white feather!"

Morin, his family said, jumped 10 feet across the water to reach the wharf, and two hours later was with the famous Worcester-shire regiment and nine days later embarking for France and glorious death in the ranks for freedom exactly 365 days after he swore to uphold the colors of England and America and all the allies.

WOMAN DIES IN WORST STORM OF WINTER

BOSTON, Feb. 16.—The winter's most severe snow storm in Greater Boston claimed one victim today when Miss Edith Nasor, 45 years old, fell exhausted in front of a motion picture theatre in the Roxbury district and died before the arrival of a physician.

Two storms within 24 hours with a total precipitation of more than seven inches of snow was the record here. The first storm ceased before Bostonians went to bed last night, but when they got up this morning snow was again falling.

116 N. Y. SOLDIERS END LIVES OVERSEAS

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 16.—One hundred and sixteen New York state soldiers took their own lives overseas during the World war, a statement issued today by Adjutant General J. Leslie Kincaid said. One hundred of the suicides were enlisted men, and 16 were officers.

"While it is impossible at this late date to assign a proper cause leading to each individual suicide," said the statement, "the officers particularly were overcome with the feeling that winning the war was an impossible task and that the world's attitude was to be swept away by the triumph of German arms. Impulses of a more personal character were evidenced in the suicides of the enlisted personnel."

"To some the fear of death coming upon them in some frightful unheard of form, was enough to destroy their moral steadfastness, while to others a chafing certainty that they were to work harm to those whom they loved across the seas, was a sufficient force to impel them to blot out their lives."

Soldiers of German descent, the report said, seem to lead other nationalities in the figures showing the extent of suicides.

"When an officer took the all-ending leap, he, as a rule, relied on a charge from his pistol," said the statement. "A coil of rope seemed to possess an unusual fascination for the enlisted man after he had arrived at the conclusion that his lot could no longer be borne."

Of the brides of American soldiers

BARTENDERS GET JOBS Appointment to Park Department Causes Sharp Debate in Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 16.—Appointment of 16 former saloon-keepers and bartenders to positions in the park department, has caused one of the sharpest debates that has marked the somewhat stormy career of the present city council.

Responding to criticisms, Commissioner Meachum of the park department, said he did not make a practice of appointing saloon-keepers, but "if they are out of work and respectable, they will receive the same consideration as other persons."

Mayor Frank X. Schwab, former brewer, elected on a "wet" platform, supported Commissioner Meachum. "I never knew before," said a saloon-keeper had such a criminal record," said the mayor. "Abraham Lincoln, my patron saint, was a saloon-keeper. He had a store and sold liquor. George Washington was a saloon-keeper. The great Japs and bottles are still there at Mount Vernon. Why discriminate against a saloon-keeper?"

14,434 BOYS AND GIRLS OF 15 YEARS MARRIED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Sixteen hundred boys and 12,334 girls, 15 years of age, in the United States were listed as married in 1920, the census bureau announced today. Fifty-two boys and 499 girls of the same age were recorded as widowed or divorced.

The analysis revealed a distinct increase during recent years or since the 1910 census in the percentage of married persons for each year of age from 15 to 31, especially among the younger members of this group. The age group from 15 to 14, inclusive, also showed an increase in the ratio of married persons in the decade, although less pronounced, especially among the women, while the proportion for persons 45 years of age and older showed a decrease.

In 1920 the figures show 3222 boys of 16 years, or three-tenths of 1 per cent of the total of that age, compared with one-tenth of 1 per cent in 1910 were married, while those 17 years of age married numbered 7699, or eight-tenths of 1 per cent of the total of that age compared with half that proportion 10 years previously.

The number of married at 15 years of age increased from 13,321 or 1.1 per cent of the total male population at that age, in 1910, to 24,044, or 2.7 per cent of the corresponding total in 1920.

The number of married girls, 16 years of age increased from 34,523, or 3.7 per cent of the total female population at that age in 1910, to 41,626, or 4.2 per cent of the corresponding total in 1920. The number married at 17 years of age increased from 76,853, or 8.7 per cent, to 90,330, or 9.3 per cent; the number 18 years of age from 166,160 or 17 per cent to 186,615, or 19.2 per cent; and the number 19 years of age increased from 224,815 or 25.2 per cent, to 264,507, or 28.6 per cent.

The statistics showed the number of single persons more than 50 years of age was 1,140,514, including 604,406 men and 636,108 women.

WARNING OF STRONG PROBABILITY OF COAL STRIKE ISSUED

Boston Chamber of Commerce Official Urges Public to Make Reasonable Preparations--- Strike, if Called, Will Curtail Both Soft and Hard Coal Supply

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—The public was warned of a "strong probability of a coal strike," and was advised that "prudence would dictate a reasonable preparation for the probable emergency" in a statement issued today by Howard Connelley, chairman of the committee on commercial and industrial affairs of the Boston chamber of commerce.

"Because of the many questions at issue there is a strong probability of a coal strike," curtailing both the bituminous and anthracite coal supply of the entire country, may be called on April 1," the statement says. While the crisis may be averted, it can be averted on semi-official authority that those in close touch with the various

Many Cities Report Coldest
Weather of Winter—34
Below in One Place

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Bostonians hurried to work this morning under stress of the coldest weather of the winter. The official weather bureau thermometer registered its minimum of four degrees below zero as most persons were leaving home, and was only one degree higher at 10 a. m.

Unofficial temperatures in Greater Boston were reported as low as 14 degrees below zero.

Coldest Since Feb. 17, 1920
Records showed that it was the coldest day since Feb. 7, 1920, when the official thermometer touched 7 degrees below zero.

Minus temperatures were recorded generally throughout eastern Massachusetts. The lowest being 24 below at Martin's Pond, North Reading.

School children in Woburn and Wakefield had a holiday when janitors found it impossible to heat the buildings.

28 Below at Greenfield
SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 17.—Lowest temperatures of the winter, by several degrees, were recorded in several points in western Massachusetts at sunrise today. Greenfield reported 28 below. This city's lowest was 14 below and Woburn, one of the highest points in the Berkshires reported 16 below.

10 Below at Worcester
WORCESTER, Feb. 17.—The official thermometer registered 10 below zero here today. The lowest temperatures reported in Worcester county were 18 below in Oxford, Upton and West Boylston.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Delay by President Harding in responding to the Hitchcock resolution until Secretary Hughes returns about March 1 from his trip to Bermuda, was indicated today after Senator Lodge, one of the American arms conference delegates had conferred with the president.

The Hitchcock resolution, adopted yesterday by the senate, calls on the president for complete information on the negotiations leading up to the conclusion of the four power pacific treaty. Senate republicans leaders are not prepared to say whether action on the four power treaty would be materially delayed should the president finally decide to await the return of the secretary of state.

Strike—Strikers Are Willing to Confer With Mill
Officials at Any Time

The first steps toward a settlement of the strike at the Hamilton Mfg. Co. and the Bay State Cotton Corp., George H. Brown, as provided for in section 2, chapter 150 of the general laws, arrived in this city shortly after 12 o'clock this afternoon and went directly to the headquarters of the United Textile Workers of America in Central street, where he met John Hanley, a member of the executive board of the U.T.W. of A. who is the official leader of the local strike. The two men conferred at length on the local situation. Mr. Hanley, at the request of his visitor, going into the details leading to the strike and what has transpired since the operatives left their work. In the course of the conversation, Mr. Hanley reiterated to the state board representative his statement to The Sun earlier in the day, to wit, that the strikers are willing at any time to meet the mill officials and discuss the issues involved. "As far as we are concerned," said Mr. Hanley, "we are willing to meet our employers, and perhaps if you saw them steps could be

of Two Men Discernible in Snow

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 17.—The frozen body of a young woman bearing the imprint of fingers on the throat, was found today 20 feet from the driveway that leads from the Kalghin avenue bridge over the Cooper creek to Forest Hill park, this city. Tracks of an automobile and the footprints of two men were discernible in the hard-crusted snow leading from the spot where the body was found, to the driveway.

The body was found by a lamp-trimmer employed by the Public Service corporation. The woman was about 30 years old and good looking. The body was dressed in what detectives described as a "second mourning" costume. The feet were encased in high tan shoes, and the hat the woman wore was made of light, soft material in sport style, giving a mannish appearance, was found nearby. There was no evidence of a struggle.

ARM VESSELS AGAINST PIRATES

Chinese Shipping Companies Move to Halt Looting of Ocean-Going Ships

One Pirate Band of 30, Imprisoned Crew of Ship and Escaped With $120,000

SHANGHAI, (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Chinese shipping companies, seeking government protection from pirates who have been seizing and looting ocean-going vessels in buccanier style, have taken to arming their ships and placing details of guards aboard.

No trace has been found of one pirate band, 30 in number, whose members shipped in the guise of passengers aboard the steamer Kwanglo from Shanghai to Hong Kong last December and when a day out from Hong Kong, rushed the ship, imprisoned the officers and crew and looted the vessel and its passengers of valuable estimated to be worth $120,000.

That the freebooters were not devoid of some civilized instincts was indicated when they discovered that one of the passengers they had robbed was the wife of Dr. Wu Ting Fang, formerly ambassador to Washington and now a leader in the South China movement. On learning her identity, they returned Mrs. Wang's money and valuables with apologies.

To a passenger whose son had been killed in the raid the pirates gave $500 in cash and two watches taken from other travelers.

NO FURTHER CHANGES EXPECTED IN LOWELL CHARTER THIS YEAR

Committee on Cities Gives Hearing on Proposed Changes, Including Recall Provision and Party Primaries---Committee Decides Charter Should Be Given Tryout Before Making Any Changes---City Solicitor Says Mayor Should Not Be Harassed With Threat of Recall

(Special to The Sun.)
BOSTON, Feb. 17.—There will be no further changes in the Lowell charter this year, unless the legislature overturns reports made today by the committee on cities—a circumstance which is most unlikely.

Yesterday afternoon the committee listened to advocates and proponents of two proposed changes,—one of Rep. Howard to provide for party primaries, and the other, of Rep. Slowsky, to insert in the charter a recall provision. Following its hearing, the committee decided unanimously that the charter should be given an opportunity to demonstrate its worth before being subjected to further alteration.

Rep. Howard told the committee the

Four Children Rescued at Roxbury Fire

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Four small children were rescued from a burning tenement in the Roxbury district today by two patrolmen. The officers later were thanked by the spent from a burning house. The fire which is believed to have been caused by a defective gas, drove two families to the street in the sub-zero weather. The firemen were coated with ice that froze almost as fast as the water fell.

6,000,000 People Facing Starvation

SIANGHAI, China—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—More than 6,000,000 people are facing starvation in the provinces of Kiang Su, in which Shanghai is located, and Chekiang and Anhwei, according to estimates compiled here. Unprecedented floods which wiped out 20 per cent of the rice crop in these districts are blamed for the food shortage.

Explosion in Powder Plant Kills Two

LAKE HOPATCONG, N. J., Feb. 17.—Two men were killed today when the dynamite packing house of the Atlas Powder Works at Landing, N. J., was destroyed by an explosion. The two men killed, Fred Alpaugh of Kenville and Eugene Lommen of Ledgewood, were said to have been the only persons in the building at the time of the explosion.

WILL PASS BONUS BILL FOR RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYED

Chairman Fordney Says Republican House Will Adopt Soldier Measure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The soldier bonus bill will be reported to a republican caucus within the next days and a republican house will pass it," Chairman Fordney, of the ways and means committee declared in the house today during a discussion over the manner of its framing.

The house was thrown into an uproar after Representative Garner of Texas, ranking democrat on the committee, had protested against the action of the republican members in carrying over the entire of the American Legion to advise with them in a secret session from which democrats were excluded.

Representative Mondell, Wyoming, repudiated the move, answered Mr. Garner and then Chairman Fordney joined the debate.

"The republican members of the ways and means committee have not thought it proper to call in men unalterably opposed to the bonus for a discussion of that bill," the chairman declared. "We had before us today an officer of the legion so we could ask him for expert information and he gave it. The bonus bill will be presented to a caucus of republican members in 15 days and a republican caucus will pass it."

Feasibility of reducing or eliminating entirely the cash payment provisions of the five option bonus bill sponsored by Chairman Fordney was said to have been considered at today's session of the ways and means committee. Two representatives of war veterans' organizations—John Thomas Taylor, vice chairman of the American Legion legislative committee, and Charles Jones, spokesman for the veterans of foreign wars—were questioned as to how former service men would feel if no cash payments were authorized.

RODIE DENIED REINSTATEMENT
CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Judge Landis, federal commissioner, today denied reinstatement to Ting Hode, former New York, Boston and Philadelphia outfielder and also barred Ben Shaw of Pittsburgh from organized baseball. Phil Wehner of Syracuse was reinstated. Hode and Shaw both joined contracts and their applications for reinstatement were termed premature.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Federal authorities investigating activities of eight men arrested recently as alleged extortionists six of whom were later released, declared today that no connection was found between these men and sympathizers of Sacco and Vanzetti, convicted in Massachusetts on murder charges.

In the recent case federal investigators said efforts to extort were limited to wealthy business men and there were no indications of any activities or threats directed against the government or officials.

MICHAEL COLLINS SENDS PROTEST TO CHURCHILL

DUBLIN, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, last night sent a long telegram to Winston Spencer Churchill, British secretary for the colonies. It was in the nature of a manifesto to the British people asking fair play for the treaty in respect to the recent happenings in Ulster, and for the appointment of the blame for them in the proper places.

Alluding to the suspension of the evacuation of Ireland by the British troops, the message said:

"I have seen it suggested in the English press that suspension of the evacuation of British troops in Ireland is for the purpose of helping the provisional government. The best way the British government can help us at the present time is not by suspending the carrying out of the treaty, but by carrying it out. It is by adhering to its spirit and letter that Ireland will be convinced that Britain is really delivering the goods this time."

"Many of the people of Ireland believe that even at this late hour England will again trick us, and this belief is used as much as possible to our disadvantage by those who oppose us. The people and government of England should understand that Ireland emerged from a black and tan era, and it is inevitable that the feeling should continue for a time to be suspicious, not only of England's good faith, but of the good sense of any Irishman who would trust England.

"We who have put our hands to the treaty do not intend to turn back, but we must insist that the other side show absolute good will also, and in this regard it is high time that the English people should view the so-called Ulster question in its true perspective."

Churchill Scouts Coup

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(By Associated Press)—In moving the second reading of the Irish Free State bill in the house of commons yesterday, Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for the colonies, laid stress on the necessity of giving effect to the treaty by clothing the provisional government, as the treaty provided, with lawful powers and enabling it to hold an election at the earliest moment.

The success of De Valera at the election he characterized as "an ugly hypothesis."

"It is perfectly clear that the reputation of the treaty by Ireland would free all parties from their obligations," the secretary continued, "and the position of Britain, standing off the treaty and ready to carry it out if others were found on behalf of the Irish nation to do their part, would be a position of great moral as well as undoubted material strength. The position of Southern Ireland, on the other hand, would be one of the greatest weakness and difficulty, absolutely isolated from the sympathy of the world and bitterly divided in herself. The position of northern Ireland would be quite unaffected."

All the government's information led it to feel that such an assumption as the success of De Valera's was incorrect.

Attending to the report of a coup d'etat to overturn the provisional government, Mr. Churchill said: "There are those who think the present Irish government may be overthrown by a coup d'etat and a Red Soviet government set up. The British government does not think that at all likely, but if it were, it is quite clear that a Soviet republic would ruin the Irish cause for 100 years, while not in any respect impairing the foundation of the British Empire or the security of Ulster. No people really are less likely to turn Bolshevik than the Irish."

For Relief For Unemployed.

Immediately, inasmuch as the council's action on the $30,000 appropriation order preceded consideration of the petition, the hearing was short lived.

J. A. McKee said that a number of men were in the city stables yesterday noon looking for work on snow removal, but because they did not have shovels no jobs were forthcoming. "If you don't own a shovel you are out of luck in that department," he commented.

The meeting was called to order at 8.25 o'clock by Pres. Bagley.

Councillor McPadden offered the following resolution in the form of a vote.

"That an emergency involving the health and safety of the people exists by reason of the large number of persons out of employment and that some measure for the relief of such persons is necessary."

It was unanimously passed.

Pres. Bagley read an order, introduced by Councillor McPadden authorizing the appropriation of $30,000 to be transferred from the general treasury fund to the board of public service, to be expended by that board at its discretion for the purpose of relieving the condition of unemployment now existing.

A certification was read from Mayor

George H. Brown to the effect that an emergency of unemployment now exists.

A second certification was read from the public service board, to the effect that it will do everything possible toward creating employment and if the $30,000 is received, efforts will be made to have the civil service rules suspended during the emergency.

Councillor McPadden spoke on the motion and Councillor Gallagher added that he understood that the board of public service already has taken up the matter of a suspension of the rules regarding employment of men not on the certified list and that the civil service commission is ready and willing to abide by any decision of the board.

The order, with the emergency clause attached, was passed unanimously on a roll call vote.

It was brought out that the public service board desires to expend as Frank J. Campbell, 711 Westford street, druggist.

The resolution presented by Councillor Queenan on the bonus bill, so-called, was changed to read as a vote, and it was unanimously passed.

Pres. Bagley read an order authorizing the appropriation of $500 for the payment of bills charged to the erection of the Highland theatre.

On a roll call vote the order passed.

Pres. Bagley suggested that committee chairmen get their committees together as soon as possible and to begin their functions.

GUARD AGAINST AN EPIDEMIC

Enrich and Strengthen Your Blood Now With That Splendid Tonic Gude's Pepto-Mangan

Keep your blood in good condition. The blood very often gets in bad shape, almost without your knowing it. How many times you feel tired and exhausted. You don't care about eating or going anywhere. Your work becomes an effort and you wake up in the morning more tired than when you went to bed.

When you feel like that, look to your blood. You can be pretty sure it is in a weakened condition.

Don't let yourself get run down. If you do not feel right, begin taking Gude's Pepto-Mangan and keep it up for awhile.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is put up in both liquid and tablet form and is sold by druggists everywhere. The liquid and tablets have exactly the same medicinal value. Buy whichever you prefer. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package.—Adv.

Says Pile Remedy Worth $100.00 a Box

"I have had itching piles ever since my earliest recollection. I am 53 years old and have suffered terribly. I have tried many remedies and doctors, but to no cure. About 8 weeks ago I saw your ad for Peterson's Ointment. The first application stopped all itching, and within days all sores were healed. I have used one box and consider I am cured. You have my grateful, heartfelt thanks, and may everyone that has this trouble see this and give your ointment. That is worth a hundred dollars or more a box, a trial. Sincerely yours, A. Newth, Columbus, Ointment for Piles, Bessie and old sores is only 25 cents a large box at all druggists. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

SHE TRIED IT FOR INDIGESTION "JUST TO SEE IF IT WOULD HELP"

NOW FEELS FINE AND ENJOYS MEALS

"Indigestion kept me so bloated up with gases after meals that I suffered for hours at a time with that disagreeable burning sensation. Nothing seemed to agree with me; I was kept belching all the time and my condition got so bad I was simply miserable. I decided to try these new Phos-Pho-Vitamins tablets just to see if they really would help.

Suffering Ended

"My condition began to improve so much that I decided to keep on taking them. And they surely did bring me the relief I sought. The first thing I knew my bowels were regulated to move gently and naturally every day. Then my whole system began to improve. My nerves were strong and steady once more; was able to enjoy nourishing meals and didn't suffer so much after them. Now I have a ravenous appetite and eat three hearty meals a day and can feel them putting new life into me. I am not bothered at all by that disagreeable indigestion, but feel like a new person. These Phos-Pho-Vitamins tablets surely put me on the road to health," said Mrs. R. Fletcher, 101 Greenwood street, Springfield.

Pleasant to Take

If Phos-Pho-Vitamins tablets could bring relief to thousands of others it was but reasonable to suppose that they could relieve Mrs. Fletcher. This is why leading druggists are featuring these new tablets. They contain powerful food auxiliary values combined with medicinal elements well suited to the irritated digestive organs and weakened stomach. They are concentrated by expert chemists into tiny tablets to make them pleasant for you to take and quicker in bringing you relief. (See full description in the Orange Colored Carton from the Irving Laboratory.) Just ask for genuine Phos-Pho-Vitamins on your way home to supper tonight. The cost is only a trifle compared with the joy of quick and lasting relief.—Adv.

much of the $30,000 as possible on the reconstruction of First street.

Pres. Bagley read a petition bearing approximately 500 signatures, asking for a public hearing on the unemployment situation.

It was voted to grant the hearing immediately.

James Dacey rose to speak on the unemployment situation and said that he believed that when Councillor McPadden introduced an order for $30,000 for the purpose of relieving the emergency, he was on the right track.

He favored a house building plan to take care of $250,000 and the other half to go toward permanent street improvements.

Edward H. Conant and others petitioned for an extension of the white way system from Church street to Charles street on Central street. It was referred to the board of public service.

Pres. Bagley read a resolution presented by Councillor Queenan to the effect that the soldier bonus legislation now before congress be approved and passed without delay and that copies of the resolution be sent to Congressmen John, Jacob Rogers and Senators Henry Cabot Lodge and David I. Walsh.

As it will be necessary to give the resolution another reading before its passage, it was held over until the next meeting.

The council voted to accept the act amending the city charter as relates to the house polls shall be open at primary elections. This amendment leaves it to the option of the election commissioners as to the time of opening the polls.

Councillor Appleton drew the following six names for traverse jury duty:

- John L. Bolton, 145 Chelmsford street, laborer.
  - Richard J. Welch, 513 Andover st., plumber.
  - John A. White, 70 South street, B. & M.
  - John J. Murray, 120 Hoyt avenue, clerk.
  - Arthur P. Mansur, 122 Andover st., retired.
  - Joseph Foley, 227 Hildreth street, baker.
- Six more names were drawn by Councillor McPadden, as follows:
- Joseph Humes, 105 South Highland street, grinder.
  - Joseph T. Tuttle, 3 Dane avenue, clerk.
  - Telephore Forrest, 559 Lawrence street, tannery.
  - Wilfred A. Beauregard, 105 Crawford street, contractor.
  - Timothy P. McCarthy, 25 Butterfield street, clerk.

Increases the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor comes right out and states plainly that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In case series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

awakened by a draught. Switching on the lights, she found a negro standing at her dresser.

"A word from you and I'll kill you," said the burglar as Mrs. Butler sat up in bed.

"I am not going to make an outcry," said Mrs. Butler. "I wish you would make no noise, for my daughter is very ill in the next room."

As the burglar picked up her jewels, she continued:

"You may have all that stuff. You see that is just some things I bought in the 5 and 10-cent store for a masquerade ball. All together they are not worth 50 cents."

"You mean that this stuff isn't so good?"

"That is just what I mean," said Mrs. Butler.

"Well, then, I don't want it," replied the burglar, climbing out of the window and descending to the street.

Mrs. Butler then telephoned the police and Hardcastle was arrested in a doorway.

HELD PROPERTY TITLE HEARING

D. A. Wilson and Laforest Deals.

who recently purchased the Arlington hotel at the corner of Central and Hurd streets, petitioned the land court for registration of the title of the property free from restrictions. The petition is being opposed by the Middlesex Co. and yesterday Judge Davis of the land court held a hearing in this city. It seems that the property originally belonged to the Middlesex Co. and was sold subject to a condition, which was that if any structure should be built within 20 feet of Hurd street, the title to the property should revert to the Middlesex Co. It is claimed that at one time there was an enclosed area on the Hurd street side of the building, alongside stone steps, and which was used as a refreshment booth.

The petition is to determine the following questions at issue:

First, was that provision a condition or a restriction? If it were a condition, the title would revert to the Middlesex Co. If it were a restriction, it would not affect the title, but the person for whose benefit the restriction was imposed could require the removal of any structure built within the reserved area.

Second, assuming it to be a condition, did the fact that a structure existed for a number of years within the area operate as a waiver of that condition?

Third, if it was a restriction, has the neighborhood so changed that the court will now declare it void, in view of the fact that it was formerly a residential neighborhood, and is now a business district?

FLAY PRES. HARDING

Democrats Score "Wiggling and Wobbling" on the Bonus Question

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Representative Garner, ranking democrat on the ways and means committee, and Representative Carrett of Tennessee, the democratic leader, declared in a statement yesterday that the suggestion of President Harding for a sales tax or postponement of soldier bonus legislation "was not at all surprising to those of us who have watched the 'wiggling and wobbling' which has been going on for the last two weeks by the republican organization, both in the legislative and executive branches."

"As a matter of fact," the statement continued, "there is every reason to believe that from the very beginning

there was a fixed purpose and a distinct understanding among the republican leaders that a situation should be brought about whereby the bonus would be paid with a sales tax or there would be no bonus. The eight-point plan of taxation suggested by the republican members of the ways and means committee was evidently put forth simply as a 'feeler.' They realized that it would bring immediate protest from persons who could promptly visualize the burdens that would thereby be imposed.

"The sales tax burden cannot be fully realized until the people begin to pay it, hence protests will not begin coming at once, and after it shall have once been adopted it will then be too late to protest.

"There has been from the beginning a purpose on the part of the republicans to engraft the sales tax system upon the country, so that there may be a gradual reduction of the taxes upon wealth."

POPE AWAITING REPAIRS ON PRIVATE APARTMENT

ROME, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Pope XI has not yet settled down to the normal life of a supreme pontiff, chiefly because the private apartment occupied by the late Benedict XV is not yet ready to receive him. A crowd of workmen is still busy rearranging the furniture and rearranging the furniture. Meanwhile the pope continues to sleep in what is called the "little throne room." It was in this chamber that Pope Leo XIII died.

Compared with the other rooms in the Vatican it is considered small, although it measures about 20 by 20 feet and the ceiling is 16 feet high.

As it adjoins the large papal library, where Pius X and Benedict XV received visitors, the chamber was transformed into a small throne room. A throne was placed opposite the window and on the floor was a magnificent carpet presented by Alfonso XII, king of Spain, to Pope Leo XIII, king of the Spanish sovereign.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—John Devoy, editor of several Irish publications, last night made public a cable message to Michael Collins stating he would not accept the view that England's wish to have Ireland in the League of Nations was worth anything as an acknowledgment of Ireland's independent status.

Ireland's representatives would be utterly powerless in a body absolutely controlled by England for her own purposes," the message said, "and would be only pawns in her imperialist game. The published cablegram that MacWhite had applied formally for admission, justified the assumption he acted under instructions, but I accept your word there was no secret agreement with Lloyd George."

Mr. Devoy assured Mr. Collins that "although uncompromising republicans, our best men here under existing conditions favor giving the 'Free State' a chance to do what it can for Ireland. He said he was utterly opposed to de Valera's attempt to upset the Free State agreement and to substitute therefor what is a revolution of the Independent Republic leaving Ireland attached to the empire, and in effect, giving to England all the rights and privileges which he condemns you for conceding."

The defeat of de Valera's selfish campaign is absolutely necessary in Ireland's interest, he asserted.

By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known downtown druggist says: "Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that boys can tell it has been applied—dye is very little cost. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks cherry, soft and beautiful."—Adv.

Best Cough Mixture Is Home Made

Act With Speed—Lousens the Phlegm—Stops the Irritation and Coughing Cures

Fine for Chest Colds Too and Is Cheaply Made at Home.

When you can make, in two minutes, a world beating remedy that acts directly on the irritability and often overgrown causes of coughs and even hard chest colds to disappear, why trouble with things that will probably disappoint?

Harsh and scuffling and also soreness of the mucous membrane go and you will feel fine in almost no time. Just get one ounce of Boric Acid (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough hot water to make a half-pint and you've got an inexpensive remedy better than you can buy ready mixed.

The scolding, leading action on the membrane is the reason so many people use it for Catarrh and acute nasal colds.—Adv.

DYE FADED WRAP SKIRT, DRESS IN DIAMOND DYES

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple any woman can dye or tint her old worn, faded things new. Given if she has never dyed before, she can put a rich, fadeless color into shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, stockings, sweaters, coverings, draperies, hangings, everything. Buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then follow the directions in guarantee. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade, or run.—Adv.

A JENNY GIEP

In Grip of Cold Wave

the third successive day and a strong north wind piling "the roads with drift. A steamer and a tug with three barges in tow were anchored off Monmouth Point, waiting for the weather to moderate before proceeding. The thermometer registered 12 degrees above zero. Between eight and ten inches of snow had fallen before noon.

New York Shivers

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Below zero weather was officially reported in New York for the first time this winter. At 8 p. m. the weather bureau's thermometer atop the Whitehall building at the Battery registered two degrees below the cipher mark. At 9 o'clock it was one above.

30 Below Zero

Cold Wave Sweeps Wide Area

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Northeastern United States was sheeted in ice today as a result of a cold snap of unusual severity, according to reports to the weather bureau, whose forecasters would predict little relief before Saturday.

The coldest spots in the United States today were Canton, N. Y., Northfield, Vt., and Greenville, Me., where the temperatures ranged from 20 to 40 below. New York city, weather bureau officials said, probably was undergoing "colder weather than cities with lower registers, because of a moisture-laden wind."

The cold wave was in effect today far below the Mason & Dixon line, several cities reporting low temperatures.

BOSTON TAILORING COMPANY

The Boston Tailoring Co. announced today through Manager Ellenberg, that the recent lease of a confectionery store and news-room on Central street means the establishment this summer of the first of a series of branch stores to be opened shortly in other New England cities.

Abandon Jazz and Cigaret Smoking

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 17.—Four hundred members of the Albuquerque high school league have abandoned jazz dancing "petting parties" and cigarette smoking. A resolution described jazz dancing as that by which "is meant dancing that involves unnecessary bodily contact and that might appear vulgar to the onlooker."

Troops Held in Readiness For Trouble

EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 17.—Despite the failure of Mexican revolutionaries to attack Juarez and the assertion of Gen. Martinez, commander of the northern military zone of Mexico, that there was no sign of revolutionary activity in the zone, the First United States cavalry, stationed at Fort Bliss here, still was held in camp today, in readiness for emergencies. It was said at the camp that this condition would continue until the rumors of an impending revolution in Mexico end. Gen. Martinez who arrived here yesterday from Chihuahua said that "the revolutionary flurry has passed," adding that the leaders of the proposed revolt had been captured and two of them executed.

Domestic Service Skilled Job

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Domestic service is a skilled job and the opposite of a degrading occupation, declared Lady Astor, M. P., presiding at a conference on unemployment among women. "When I listen to the anti-women members in the house of commons," she added, "I rather long to go to them as a domestic. It would be such a wonderful chance of what the soldiers called 'learning 'em.'"

To Admit Members Without Emersion

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 17.—Members will be admitted to the Fayetteville Baptist church hereafter without emersion. This was decided upon by a two-thirds vote of the membership of the church at its annual meeting. This is the first time that a Baptist church in this section has modified the rule insisting upon emersion as the sole method of Baptism. The church is located in a suburb of Syracuse.

Lenine Not to Attend Genoa Conference

LONDON, Feb. 17.—It is considered extremely unlikely that Premier Lenine of soviet Russia will attend the Genoa conference, despite the previous understanding that he was to head the Russian delegation, according to the Russian trade delegation here. Resolutions from hundreds of workers' meetings held throughout Russia have been pouring into Moscow recently against his going, the trade representatives report.

Barges Aground Off Mass. Coast

SANDWICH, Feb. 17.—A barge was grounded near each entrance to the Cape Cod canal today. The barge Socony 6, struck the northern end of the breakwater, off the eastern entrance, during the night and was still stranded there today, but in no apparent danger. The barge Greenwood was ashore at Hummell's point, in Buzzard's bay, just below the western entrance to the canal. Both barges were believed to be bound for Boston.

Looting in Several Mexican Towns

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Mexico is tranquil except a few places in the states of Michoacan and Jalisco, according to reports from postmasters in all parts of the republic to Secretary of the Treasury De la Huerta. Disturbances in a few places were reported but these were described as being directed against organized society in general rather than against the Mexican government, taking the form of marauding and looting.

$500,000 Fire Loss at Birmingham, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 17.—Fire which wiped out one-fourth of a city block at 31st street and Fourth avenue in the heart of the downtown business district today caused a loss of more than $500,000.

FAMOUS INTERVIEWS
WITH EX-KAISER

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—William Bayard Rustin's famous interview with the German Kaiser, Wilhelm II, sold to the Century magazine in 1908 for $1000, and printed before it was suppressed, was almost made known to the world last night by William Webster Ellsworth, former president of the Century Publishing Co., and descendant of Noah Webster.

Portions of the famous interview were told to the students of the McGill school of journalism after reporters had promised not to make them public.

"What was it?" asked Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormack, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, at the conclusion of the address, "that the Kaiser said about my father? I'd tell me even though it was unfavorable."

"My dear lady," replied Noah Webster's great grandson, "I can only repeat that it was unfavorable. Other than that I remember nothing in that part of the interview. And every single copy of the interview was taken 500 miles out into the Atlantic ocean and there burned by a picked detachment of German naval officers, who spent the day in the furnace room of a warship to do it."

FIRE ALARMS

There were two alarms for slight fires last evening and one this morning for what was believed to be a blaze. The first alarm sent in last evening was from box 125 at 5:54 o'clock for a slight blaze in a small room, off the kitchen at 558 Market street. The other was a telephone alarm at 9:00 o'clock for a chimney alarm at 151 East Merrimack street. This morning's alarm was by telephone and was sent in at 10:40 o'clock by a person, who saw smoke issuing from a window in a house in Gates street near the corner of Westford street. When the firemen reached the premises they found that the "smoke" was steam escaping from the bathroom of the house.

PURGE MOVIES

—ELINOR GLYN

BY JACK JUNGMEYER

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Let Elinor Glyn tell you what's wrong and what's right with the movies and those who make them.

There is neither blanket approbation nor condemnation but the discriminating verdict of author, woman of the world, observer of social conditions in many lands and now a participant in motion picture production here.

"In applying the moral yardstick to cinema performers," she says, "always keep this consideration to the fore: that there is no other vocation where such temptations exist."

"The picture studio is not like the stage where actors and actresses play opposite one another for a season. There is a constant change of partners, constant excitement of the emotional nature."

"Many young, beautiful women and gifted, handsome men come into this environment without discipline or the protective armor of sound home breeding."

"They are then quite at the mercy of their emotions. Yet as a class I have never known people so wholesome, charitable, kindly and industrious."

Public should sympathize.

Probably the most independent in thought and action among all the celebrated authors taking part in film production, Mrs. Glyn speaks her impressions with genuine conviction and directness.

"For the entertainment and relaxation screen folk give it, the public ought to be like a sympathetic friend, not condemning wholesale for the vagaries of the few."

"Eliminate these few promptly by an unmistakable social gesture—that would be the intelligent attitude. Otherwise carelessness is only attained because good and bad behavior is not differentiated."

"I would unhesitatingly plumb those cases demanding it but I believe the futile and negative to the motion picture industry merely to bring those isolated instances to light."

Suggests Two Remedies

"Two constructive suggestions I would offer:

"One: Let the public support only those stars who are known to be leading irreproachable lives."

"Two: Let the leaders of the industry create a tradition and standard of fine conduct and clean living."

"I would advocate the formation of a great all-embracing movie guild where the banner of high purpose would be raised and an esprit de corps could be developed."

Mrs. Glyn had just come in from "location" where Gloria Swanson and Rudolph Valentino are working on her picture, "Beyond the Rock," which portrays the conflict between passion, love and the restraint and strategy as necessary to combat the temptations of youthful heroes in the cinema world."

Sees No Fault

"I never saw any wild behavior on my own sets," she resumed. "No drunken young men, no promiscuous kissing—none of the things one hears whippers of."

"I have heard little that wasn't commendable in Hollywood. I have heard of them, yes—of too much drinking, especially, and I think that want of sobriety is at the bottom of most of the distressing things."

"If in spots there is riotous living, here is occasion for the weapon of social ostracism upon individuals, not the stoning of an industry."

"Good example and the appeal to honor alone is potent."

$40,000 Award for Breach of Promise

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 17.—A verdict for $40,000 was awarded to Mrs. Lydo McDonald today in her suit against Richard S. Des Portes, prominent Columbia financier for alleged breach of promise. Mrs. McDonald sued for $150,000, alleging that she and Mr. Des Portes had lived together as man and wife for 20 years.

Held Without Bail on Murder Charge

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 17.—Alfred Kosechay was arraigned this noon on two warrants charging murder and remanded to jail without bail to await the March grand jury. He was charged with shooting to death last night, Mrs. Walter Pike, whose husband is living apart from her, and their five-year-old son.

POTATO GROWERS SEEK LOWER FREIGHT RATES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Potato growers of Maine through the Public Utilities commission of that state, presented at the Interstate Commerce commission's general rate hearings today, an argument for a special revision of rates in their territory and upon their product. Herbert W. Trafton, chairman of the state commission, and Charles F. Barnes, speaker of the Maine legislature, were called as witnesses. Senators Fernald and Hale of Maine were on hand to support application.

Mr. Trafton said the general 10 per cent reduction recently made on rates on farm products had been omitted in Maine and other New England territory. Through the Maine Central, the Bangor & Arundel and Canadian Pacific lines in the state had finally allowed the 10 per cent reduction on interstate shipments, he said, state rates remained the same. Maine growers producing one-ninth of the entire potato crop of the United States, have been put at a serious disadvantage with their competitors, according to the witness.

Attorney Hart, representing New England railroads, attacked Mr. Trafton's conclusion, sharply, on cross-examination, alleging that the Bangor & Arundel and the Canadian Pacific had backtracked on their promise.

taken so as to bring about a conference between the mill officials and International President Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers of America.

Will Return Next Week
Mr. Hanley informed Mr. Hanley that because of the fact that there are several textile strikes in various parts of the state and that his time is pretty well taken up, he will not be able to confer with the mill officials today, but will return to Lowell in the early part of next week and then he will endeavor to interview the agents of the Hamilton and Day State as to their stand in the matter. He hopes to be able to bring about a conference.

Mr. Hanley, in conversation with a Sun reporter this forenoon, stated that "The United Textile Workers of America are always ready to sit around the table with mill officials and discuss matters. Our organization does not believe in a strike only as a last resort and then, even after the operatives are out, we stand ready at any time to discuss the issues involved in an amicable manner. Of course," he said, "no man can settle a strike, for as for the ordering of a strike it requires a majority vote in a majority of the unions represented at the Lowell mill council and then the action of the said unions has to be sanctioned by a majority of the council. So that, if a conference is brought about, the result of the conference will be brought to the attention of the members of the union who are represented in the council. A vote will be taken on the acceptance or rejection of the proposition submitted and then each union will report the result of its vote at a special meeting of the council, where final action will be taken. International President McMahon is the man who, as a rule, represents the operatives at a conference with the mill officials, unless he deems it advisable to be represented at the conference by delegates selected by him."

After being informed that the strikers were willing to meet the mill officials, The Sun man endeavored to communicate the news to Agent Billington of the Day State, but Mr. Billington was out of town. Supt. Willmott was then asked if he believed the officials of the company would be willing to confer with a committee representing the strikers and he replied he did not know. He was then asked if there was anything new at the mill and he replied, "We are better off today than yesterday."

Agent Billington of the Hamilton Mill Co., when asked if the were willing to meet his employes to discuss matters, replied, "I have nothing to say."

International President

Mr. Hanley today received a letter from International President McMahon, who is leading the textile strikes in Rhode Island. Mr. McMahon offered words of encouragement to the local strikers, saying "Keep up the fight, you are fighting for a good cause and you are bound to win. Keep up your courage and everything will end well."

Trades & Labor hall in Central street proved inadequate to comfortably lodge the numerous employees of the Day State Cotton corporation at an organizing meeting held last night. There were over 200 men and women present and before the meeting was brought to a close several of those present signified their intention of joining the various unions in the textile industry. The meeting was addressed by John Hanley.

branch of the pledges given by the prime minister, the house should decline to proceed with the second reading until the government had given assurance that the provision in question should be eliminated or that any decision of the boundary commission should only take effect after approval of the northern parliament had been given.

Former Premier Asquith vigorously supported the bill in the debate before the vote, saying the boundary question was an integral part of the treaty and that it would be impossible for the government to escape the charge of gross bad faith if there were any repudiation of that part of the agreement.

Prime Minister Lloyd George contradicted an assertion by Thomas Moles, Unionist member for the Ormeau division of Belfast, that the government had assured Sir James Craig that the boundary adjustment would be of a minor character while promising Michael Collins extensive changes.

A heated altercation ensued between Mr. Moles and Mr. Lloyd George over this point.

"Ulster demands a straight deal," exclaimed Mr. Moles. "If a breach is made in the wall surrounding the Ulster area and invasion is attempted we will stand in the breach and defend it or fill it with our dead bodies."

Lord Hugh Cecil charged the government with treating the Sinn Fein as if it were a constituted government, adding:

"Now that we have found it is not

42 Kidnapped Men Released

BELFAST, Feb. 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—Forty-two Ulster Unionists, kidnapped during the recent raids across the border from the south, have been released. Michael Collins, head of the provisional government, telegraphed Colonial Secretary Churchill today that he had succeeded in obtaining the liberation of this number of prisoners.

Quoted in Belfast East Night

BELFAST, Feb. 17 (By the Associated Press).—Last night was the quietest Belfast has experienced since the outbreak on Sunday night of the disorders which have taken a toll of more than 30 lives. The only incident reported early this morning was the firing of a shot at a watchman in the Mills Falls district. He escaped injury.

Return to their homes of a large number of kidnapped unionists has had a good effect on public opinion here, but the situation on the border continues to be one of danger owing to the proximity of rival forces at some points.

News of the arrangement for liaison commissions on each side of the frontier also was received with satisfaction and the hope is widely expressed.

MURDERED IN LAWYER'S OFFICE

Farmer Attacks Wealthy Land
Owner During Taking of

Victim Had Denounced Slay-
With Wife as "Lie"

SOMERSET, Ky., Feb. 17.—John P. Todd, farmer, who yesterday shot and killed A. H. Wilson, wealthy land owner in an attorney's office here after Wilson had denounced as a "black lie" Todd's charges that he had been intimate with Mrs. Todd, today remained silent concerning the case.

The shooting occurred during the taking of depositions in divorce proceedings. Wilson had been named co-respondent in Todd's counter claim to Mrs. Todd's suit, charging cruelty.

Mrs. Todd was in an ante-room where she could hear the testimony. "Were you ever intimate with Mrs. Todd?" asked Judge William Catron, attorney for Mrs. Todd.

"Absolutely no. It's a lie—as black as one as ever was told."

Before there was time for anyone to interfere Todd had whipped out a pistol and fired four shots at Wilson, seated only a few feet away. Three shots took effect and Wilson died a few minutes later. Todd surrendered and was taken to jail. He is the father of three children. Wilson was a daughter who is the wife of James Server, star University of Kentucky football player.

Ulster's army of special constables on the border has elaborately equipped defenses, including strategically placed positions protected by barbed wire entanglements and sand bags, much like the defenses used in the world war. They are also supplied with an abundance of firearms. It is believed that the Irish republican army is equally well armed and equipped, and the readiness of both sides is pointed to as a reason for quick establishment of the Haison commissions.

Claire Sheridan, famous sculptress who gained fame a year ago when she returned from Bolshevik Russia after modelling Lenin and Trotsky, is enjoying the thrill of home life now in New York. Here she is with her daughter, Margaret.

The Sinn Féin in Belfast, after a meeting last night, sent a telegram to Prof. John MacNeill, speaker of the Dail Eireann in Dublin, as follows:

"On behalf of the religious and political minority in Belfast, forming 100,000 citizens, we protest against the misleading and lying statements contained in the telegram addressed by Craig, Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, to the premier of England, in which he states that the recent murderous atrocities to which our people have been subjected were the outcome of the raids in Tyrone and Fermanagh, and the affair at the Clones station.

"We assert that it can easily be proved our people were being murdered almost daily for a week before either of the occurrences mentioned. Furthermore, we are convinced that Craig deliberately made this misrepresentation for the purpose of excusing or justifying the cruel and cold blooded murders being inflicted on the minority in this city, on whose behalf we speak."

Withdrawal of Troops
DUBLIN, Feb. 17 (by the Associated Press).—The British military evacuation of Ireland is expected to be resumed today or tomorrow. It was declared by Michael Collins, head of the provisional Irish government, on his return yesterday from London where he interviewed Winston Churchill, secretary for colonies.

General Sir C. E. North Macready, British military commander in Ireland, visited Mr. Collins in the afternoon and their conversation, it was assumed, was in connection with the withdrawal of the troops.

Mr. Collins last night sent a lengthy telegram to the British colonial secretary declaring that the best help the provisional government could have in its present difficulties was for England faithfully to carry out the Anglo-Irish treaty in all its particulars.

Prospects of the Irish parliamentary elections being held in April are now much discussed, and it is said that a daily newspaper devoted to the interests of the Free State, in contrast to the influence of the Republic of Ireland, the organ of the De Valera party, will be established in preparation for the campaign.

Seize Irish Papers
CORK, Feb. 17 (by the Associated Press).—When the mail train from Dublin arrived here this morning a party of armed men seized all the copies of the Irish Independent and the Freeman's Journal, both nationalist newspapers and drove off in automobiles. The copies of the United Irish Times and the English newspapers were not touched.

FOR MEDIUM HEIGHT

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The coolest hat, a Marie Louise design, is an interesting variation of "just hat." The queer pointed crown which verily begins at the edge of the brain, is of shimmeringly beautiful silver cloth and gracefully draped with peacock feathers.

Such a crown, however, is a dangerous thing for the girl who is either above or below medium height. The too tall girl will find her height greatly emphasized by the wearing of pointed crowns, while the really short girl is apparently shortened by the spreading sides of the crown. Only the girl who strikes in height, that happy medium can successfully wear a coolie hat.

The flowing veil, which is quite an important part of the new spring hat, is black embroidered in gold.

Mrs. Jennie Hamblet, 14 Chandler St.

Edward Lassar, Inc.
400 West 23rd Street
New York City

Dear Sirs:

You have no idea what a joy it is to me to tell you about my own case. I began suffering from asthma about two years ago. The attacks soon became so frequent and severe that it was almost impossible for me to lie down in comfort or to get any sleep at all in bed. There was so much thick and sticky mucus in my lungs that I could not take a deep breath. My attacks were made so much worse by eating that I simply could not consume enough food to nourish my body.

In time, I lost so much flesh and strength that I was scarcely able to do any work at all. I tried all sorts of medicines, but continued to grow weaker and feel more and more run-down and utterly miserable. Finally, my druggist suggested that I try Wincarnis, knowing that nothing else had done me any good. I began to feel wonderfully improved before I had finished taking the first bottle. I have taken five bottles and really feel like a new person. I now sleep soundly, am refreshed when I wake up, eat any and every sort of food, have an abundance of energy and very seldom have a return of my old attacks.

I do wish every sufferer from asthma or extreme weakness would try Wincarnis, for it certainly is the most wonderful of all tonics and it restores one's strength so quickly. You may publish this letter of appreciation of what Wincarnis has done for me if you like.

Yours very truly

FREE To Ruptured Men, Women and Children

Rupture experts representing
Wm. S. Rice of Adams, N. Y., inventor of the famous Rice Non-Surgical Treatment for Rupture, will be at the New American Hotel, Lowell, Mass., February 20 and 21. Every ruptured man, woman or parents of ruptured children should take advantage of this opportunity to get an absolutely FREE TRIAL of this famous Rice Treatment.

The Rice Method for rupture is known the whole world over.
You can now obtain it on trial without risking a single penny.
Simply go to the hotel and ask for the Rice representative. A lady attendant will care for all women and children who call.
No matter if your rupture is hard to hold or of long standing or what you have tried in your efforts to cure it, the trial is for everyone who is ruptured, whether young or old. If you have tried everything else and failed, you still have the privilege of this free trial of the Rice Method. If your rupture has hampered and annoyed you in your work or pleasure, now is the opportunity to learn how perfectly the Rice Method is adapted to your case, and how easily it can be applied to any rupture.

Why wear a truss all your life when thousands have reported cures through using the Rice Method? Why suffer the burden of rupture if there is a chance to be free from truss-wearing forever? You want to be relieved of your rupture, so why not take advantage of this opportunity and find out what the Rice Method holds in store for you. Thousands of formerly ruptured sufferers have been able to throw away their old fashioned steel and spring trusses after using the Rice Method, so why not you? It will not cost you a penny to test this out, and surely there can be no more positive proof of confidence in my Method than to let you try it free. I can afford to make you this offer because it is to convince you in your own mind that this is a vastly different, scientific and successful Method for rupture.

In justice to yourself, go to the hotel and see the Rice representatives. They will be in Lowell only two days, and you should grasp the opportunity now. Remember with the Rice Method there is no operation, pain, danger or detention from work or pleasure. You can go about your daily duties with greater comfort than you have ever thought possible. Anyway the trial is free, so you can go to the hotel and see for yourself just what the Rice representatives have to offer. You do not place yourself under the slightest obligation by accepting this invitation, and this FREE TRIAL will prove a revelation to every ruptured person in Lowell and vicinity.

Remember the dates and place:
New American Hotel, Lowell,
Mass., February 20 and 21.
Hours 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., 7 to 9 evenings. Don't miss the free trial.

MOTHER AND SON KILLED BY JEALOUS MAN

NEWPORT, R. I., Feb. 17.—The divorced wife of Walter Pike of Brockton was shot and killed in her apartment here late yesterday afternoon. Her son, Robert, aged five, was also shot and instantly killed. The assailant was Alfred Koschny, a confectioner of this city, who had known Mrs. Pike here before her marriage to the Brockton man. He had called on her since her divorce and her return to her home here, police say.

Koschny, having killed mother and son, turned the revolver on himself, but made only a flesh wound. He gave himself up at the home of his brother. On the way to the hospital he remarked to the police sergeant that he had shot Mrs. Pike and her son in her apartment. The police found the bodies in the bedroom.

Mrs. Pike, formerly Miss Margaret Sullivan of Newport, was saleswoman in the store of the Koschny brothers here before her marriage. Jealousy prompted the double tragedy, according to the police.

World's Amateur Typewriting Champion Gave Demonstration at Lowell High School Today

Miss Marion C. Waver, world's amateur typewriting champion, gave a typewriting demonstration before several hundred of the commercial pupils of the Lowell high school this morning. Miss Waver won the international amateur championship at the New York annual business show on Oct. 17, 1921, writing 127 words per minute for one-half hour. In one minute tests in the demonstration this morning, Miss Waver wrote at speeds ranging from 150 to 171 words a minute.

GROGERS AND BUTCHERS

"The Story of Spices" was related in an interesting manner by E. L. Carter of the D. L. Shide Co., of Boston, before the members of the Lowell Grocers' and Butchers' association last evening. Numerous lantern slides were used to illustrate the talk, some pictures having been secured in the far east. All grocers and butchers, whether members or not, are cordially invited to attend meetings of a similar sort that are to be held regularly from now on.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS IN "HOLD OUT LEAGUE"

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—These are parlous days for the New York Yankees. Baseball calls it a "hold out session," but the situation is described as a strike by labor circles.

Duke Ruth, lamplighter extraordinary of the horseshoe, thinks he ought to have more money—and measures the more in thousands. Little Aaron Ward, keeper of the keystone cask, feels that he knows from Fort Smith, Ark., that he wants his salary increased to $10,000, and won't play the second station until he gets it.

Of the pitchers, Walter Hoyt is the only one to come to terms so far. "Bullet Joe" Bush and Sam Jones, obtained from the Boston Red Sox, that he wants his salary increased to $10,000, and won't play the second station until he gets it.

H. F. KETTER'S THEATRE

Tripping melodies and a finale of instrumental uniqueness characterize the splendid act of the Quixote Four, which is jointly headlined with Davis & Darnell at the B. F. Keith theatre this week. The four men of the quartet know well how to interest audiences. Davis & Darnell in "Birdseed" have a snappy conversational skit, while Doris Duncan, the singing comedienne, is rated as one of the best "single" entertainers of the season. Her work is wonderfully good. "The Editor of the Assassinated Press," played by George Vennart and Lizzie, is a novelty sketch. Other acts of the week's bill are: Boyle & Bennett, dancers; Diamond & Hart, Cosack and physical culture act, and Harry De Cor, equilibrist.

RIALTO THEATRE

Hope Hampton appearing in "Star dust" was the feature of an excellent program which opened at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon. On the bill was delightful Billy Rhodes comedy, "The Star Reporter." It is booked for the remainder of the week so don't fail to see it.

for the remainder of the week so don't fail to see it.

MacK Sennett's latest comedy production, "Molly O," starring Mabel Normand in the leading role will be the attraction of the Rialto theatre next week. Just now Mabel is a very much in the public eye. "Molly O" is said to be the best she has yet undertaken.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Tyrone Power in "Footfalls," a stirring dramatic production, and Belle Daniels in "The Speed Girl," are now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre.

SUNDAY AT THE STRAND

The big attraction at the Strand for Sunday will be Prince Napoleon's famous Jazz band of seven people. This unusual offering will head a program of exceptional worth. The act is one that has been featured in Boston and has been creating no end of favorable comment. The remainder of the vaudeville bill and the motion pictures, including Tom Moore in "Hold Your Horses" will surely satisfy the desires of all patrons. Don't miss seeing and thoroughly enjoying one of the best Sunday offerings of the season.

THE STRAND

Dustin Farnum, one of the real screen favorites, in "The Primal Law," is one of the attractions on The Strand program for the week-end and that is meeting with genuine approval from all sides. It's a characteristic Farnum picture story and its enactment by the star and the assisting company is excellent. Corinne Griffith in "Reverend Payment" is a startlingly true-to-life story that you will enjoy.

OPERA HOUSE

It is easy to understand why Miss Marguerite Fields and her own company are playing to capacity audiences at all performances at the Opera House this week, after witnessing the presentation of the strong dramatic creation, "The Acquittal." It is positively the best and most artistic stock attraction for seasons and will surely rank among the best for seasons to come. If you haven't seen it, don't fail to make the most of the remaining opportunities. Next week Nell Burgess' great rural comedy drama, "The County Fair," will be offered with its songs, dances, "husking" bee and just not least the big, spectacular horse race right on the stage. Order your tickets well in advance.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION

From Raging Lung Cough
Cured by One Bottle

ALLEN'S LUNG HEALER

Hundreds of Lynn people have been cured of severe lung coughs by this wonderful remedy, many of whom have either written or told us of their experience. Following is the written testimony of one of the hundreds gratefully given:

Mr. H. J. Allen:

Dear Sir:—Several months ago I contracted a very heavy cold on my lung. The lungs were sore and congested and I was in a serious condition. I had heard so much about your Lung Healer and the many cures it had wrought in similar cases, I thought I would try it. The first dose relieved me as did each succeeding dose, and when the bottle was used up I was practically well again. I am satisfied that the Lung Healer saved me from having pneumonia.

Sincerely yours,

melodrama from the pen of the famous novelist, Leroy Scott, will be shown at the Crown theatre, for two days, beginning today. In this thrilling picture the power of a leader of the underworld is seen to reach into the very halls of justice. Political heroes at the paws of the mighty character who controls them through fear and through a secret organization of cut-throats and robbers. However, the leader of this gang is undone by a woman, a fact that has often occurred in reality.

Lon Chaney, who will be remembered for his remarkable characterization in a legless thing in the Goldwyn production of "The Penalty," has the leading part in "The Night Rose." All the other leading parts are filled by such sterling players as Leatrice Joy, Betty Schade, Jody Chapman, John Powers, Cullen Landis, Maurice J. Flynn and Richard Tucker. Wallace Worsley directed the picture.

SENATOR LODGE'S ATTACK

Senator Lodge recently addressing the republican members of the Massachusetts legislature, extolled the republican congress as having made a record unrivaled for economy and the amount of business transacted and charging that the democrats in congress by every artifice of delay and time wasting have done their utmost to make this congress a do-nothing body.

The suspension of many war activities, no longer necessary, has cut off many sources of expenditure, and this Senator Lodge sets down as proof of republican economy.

The senator must realize that such statements are too obviously groundless to receive credence among intelligent people. The republican congress has failed hopelessly in solving the great questions of reconstruction, notably that of taxation and the tariff. Recently the republican leaders are pointing to the great achievements of the arms conference, but public sentiment is not at all unanimous as to the merits of these alleged achievements. It is believed in many quarters that the treaties provided will be of much more benefit to England and Japan than to the United States, and that we have made too great a sacrifice to secure the agreements arrived at. Whether they will be adopted by the republican congress is not yet certain, but inasmuch as Senator Lodge is the republican leader and as some democrats are in favor of the treaties on account of Senator Underwood's influence, it is highly probable that they will be ratified.

In spite of what Mr. Lodge says, it is an indisputable fact that the republican congress is largely responsible for prolonging the business depression because of its failure to give the country a rational revision of the taxation system, and because of its failure to enact a permanent tariff law.

The chief trouble with the republican congress is that it lacks progressive leadership. Unfortunately the president, who undoubtedly is doing the best he can, is not gifted with the qualities of decision or foresight necessary to a successful leader. In his present position he shows the same tendency to vacillation and indecision that characterized his earlier campaign for election. This comes of his cabinet ministers often progressive counsel and guidance, the president will still continue to flounder, while the business of the country suffers from the delay. Congress on most of the great questions waits for the presidential edict; but it fails to receive any clear-sighted direction from President Harding. This cause of republican failure will not be mentioned by Senator Lodge, who is now entering upon his campaign for re-election in the fall.

FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

The question of repeating the daylight saving law is up again in the legislature, the prime movers being the farmers and others who have, as it were, a surplus of sunlight and apparently do not realize the great necessity of an additional hour of fresh air and sunlight for the workers in the dingy factories, workshops and stores.

The present movement for the repeal of the law ignores the benefits derived from recreation in the sunlight. This is in line with the advantages of public playgrounds and recreation parks, for the reason that it brings the people out from the congested districts, from the din of the busy streets to the public park or the ball field, where they enjoy fresh air and sunshine, both of which are limited in supply in the factories and workshops. Physicians now come forward to testify that since the enactment of the daylight saving law, the death rate from tuberculosis has been much reduced. This is what might be expected on account of the great health benefits derived from recreation during the hours of sunshine.

In opposition to the repeal of this law, a vast number of chambers of commerce and other business and manufacturing interests, have been obliged to lead their influence, feeling that the repeal would be an injury to the masses.

Perhaps there is no class of people who derive more benefits from daylight saving than those who work in the mills and factories in a city such as Lowell. Here the workers can get together in the public parks or on the ball fields to witness the games of the baseball league or such other sports as may be carried on by the younger element. These who cultivate home gardens have time to devote to them after working hours before sundown.

Some objection has been made on account of the confusion of time between places where this law prevails and those that run upon the regular time schedule. It seems that this confusion has been rather exaggerated beyond its importance. In some places along the dividing line, it will be rather inconvenient, of course, but this is more than counterbalanced by the great benefits derived from the additional hours of sunlight enjoyed by the vast majority of the people.

EXTENDING THE POSSIBLE

Could you keep a fire burning under water? It has just been done, 16 feet under the surface of New York harbor.

Near Staten Island, a 26-inch steel water pipe on the floor of the ocean was smashed by a dredge. It had to be cut away.

Divers came up out of the muddy depths and reported that the water immediately extinguished their steel-cutting acetylene torches.

But an "underwater fire" has been developed by a company that packages submarine wrecks. As this there are many such in Lowell.

A Thought For Today

"Do the duty which lies nearest thee," which thou knowest to be a duty. Thy second duty will already have become clearer.—Thomas Carlyle.

Only Two Seasons

The teacher in an east side school-room had been telling the class about the four seasons. Then she began her questioning. "Now many seasons have we?" she asked Rachel. "Two, miss," replied the little daughter of New York's sweatshop district, "black and busy."

The Truist Servant

"You say your mistress is away? I suppose she would not object to my taking a few scenes in her grounds?" said a film producer. "I don't suppose so," said the trusty servant, "but you must come 'round afterward bothering her to buy the photographs."

A Word a Day

Today's word is bloc. It is pronounced—black. It means—a group in any political assembly, as in congress or a legislature, that votes together, independently of party lines. It comes from—French "bloc," a block or solid piece. It's used like this—"The agricultural bloc in congress has influenced the passage of many farm measures."

Oldest Inhabitant's Opinion

The village worthies were discussing the veracity of one of their neighbors, and the oldest inhabitant, an old man, repeated the old man. "Well, I don't know as it goes as far as that; but I tell you what, when feeling time until he gets some one else to call them for him."

The Runaway Age

Fifteen is now the average age at which girls run away from home, says an official of Travelers' Aid society. The age is lower than it used to be. That's more serious than the increased number of disappearances. Old-time melodramas had an advantage over modern movies. They painted a truer picture of what happened to most runaway girls. They passed out because of illness, over-did their parts and turned melodrama into farce. The Port of Missing Women is worse than Port Said.

Smart Travelling Man

According to a tale that hails from the middle west a travelling man once said to the proprietor of a lively stable: "What is the price for a rig to go over to Blankville?" "Ten dollars," he replied. After the journey had been taken the owner of the horse and carriage said: "Twenty dollars." Asked to explain, he added, "Ten dollars over and $10 back." The next time the travelling man came he again inquired: "What is the price for a rig to go over to Blankville?" "Ten dollars," again answered the liverman. Several days later the travelling man reappeared without the rig and handed the stableman a stick. "That's where is my rig," demanded the owner. "Over at Blankville," said his patron. "All I wanted to do was to go over."

Dreaming

How sweet it is to sit and dream, When others toil and mull and strive. To fancy things are what they seem, And feel as glad that you're alive! When you're in bed at night, the brain, Imagining most unlikely things, Forgetting life is dull and plain, And letting fancy spread her wings!

To sit and dream! What pure delight It gives us in these busy days To follow fancy in her flight! That's the sweet path and Milky Way!

What bliss and ecstasy to sit, And build a castle in the air; But there's one drawback, you'll admit, It doesn't get you anywhere! —Somerville Journal.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

It is believed that this city will have more of the influenza throughout the winter, and that it will be particularly so, as an epidemic. There is a great deal of sickness at the present time, with hard grippe colds predominating, and from this prevalence some cases of influenza must develop. So far locally there have been two deaths reported in which influenza was named as a contributory cause. But at no time, however, has the disease become epidemic to an alarming extent and as far as can be learned practically every case reported to date has been light in character. Naturally people worry that a little about influenza, the cause of the terrible ravages of just a few years ago, but this should tend toward more carefulness against undue exposure and the taking of exceptional precautions. We do not attempt to create an impression that the disease is a state of mind, but unnecessary worry does not help.

I am told that an interesting feature of the Eastern Dag club show, in Merchants building, Boston, next week, will be the exhibition of a mysterious dog, a canine named with a bright red hair. According to the dog's owner, no one has yet succeeded in classifying its breed, although various people have called it a red Arabian wolfhound and others claim it is a mixture of several breeds. As the dog was purchased in Germany some time ago, and it is known that many (con-

"It was just about two years ago that I began to be distressed after every meal. I had awful slumbering spells at times and my heart beat so irregularly that I often thought I wouldn't live through the attack. Headaches were the bane of my existence and I shudder even now when I think of them. My back hurt me, too, and it was just agony for me to bend over and straighten up again."

man dogs are difficult to identify, considerable speculation is manifested as to whether anyone will be able to classify it correctly. There will be many connoisseurs at the show, there may be a possibility of the dog being definitely settled. Just how the committee in charge asks "What is it?"

It was pleasing indeed to listen to the lecture on advertising delivered Wednesday night by Frank A. Black of the William Plimley Sons' store of Boston before over 100 members of the Lowell Advertising club and its friends. Mr. Black was not an orator. He warned his audience of that fact as sort of a prologue to his remarks. But the fine thing about his talk was its simplicity, directness and interesting manner in which it was delivered. Every sentence contained a fact of value to those assembled. And in passing it may be said that the club itself is maintaining its interest in affairs. At every one of the weekly gatherings, which are held in the form of a luncheon at least 50 members of the club have been present. It would seem that this club is out to accomplish its ends, and to make a mark along with other live organizations of the city. Secretary Treasurer Edward W. Gallagher, who looks after the business arrangements of the club, is much elated with its success from an educational standpoint. The members also thoroughly enjoy the weekly exchange of ideas on business problems.

The election of Harry O'Sullivan as commander of Lowell Chapter 5, Disabled Veterans' Ass'n. of America seems to have met with approval from all sides. Recently the commander-elect was installed in office by State Commander Green. Mr. O'Sullivan has been a tireless worker for his organization. He has been in a wheelchair for nearly every convention and during the last year, held several weeks ago, he worked night and day on the plans so that success might reward the workers. It is the wish of his many friends that his organization will enjoy a prosperous term under his leadership.

GAELIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS LADIES' NIGHT

The Lowell Gaelic association held another of its enjoyable ladies' nights in its Central street quarters last evening, with a crowd in attendance that taxed the capacity of the hall. Those dancing parties have been thoroughly enjoyed by the members and their ladies throughout the winter, and with but one more in prospect before the beginning of Lent one and all are planning to take full advantage of this social opportunity, and hope for a continuation after Easter.

These parties are conducted in the inimitable Irish style, with music furnished by a violin orchestra of three pieces, and most of the dances of the "square" variety, making it necessary to have an experienced man with the orchestra to call out the various movements. Waltzes, one-steps and fox trots are interspersed, but the crowd shows far more interest in the quadrilles and other square dances.

In addition to conducting these parties, the young men of Gaelic ancestry who form the association conduct athletic events on a pretentious scale, including Gaelic football and hurling, and were the first to take the initiative in this city in connection with the teaching of the Gaelic tongue, a movement which is gaining momentum throughout the country.

ZEDELER CONCERT

AT GRACE CHURCH

Nicolaus Zedeler appeared at the Grace Universalist church last night with his symphonic quintet rendering a program of instrumental and vocal numbers.

Before each of the less familiar sections Mr. Zedeler explained the characterizations and also told something about their composers. His instrument was the cello and he was assisted by Mrs. Zedeler, piano; Paul Clark and Louis Poppo, violins and Miss Betty Booth, soprano.

The program was both entertaining and instructive and well received by a large number of people who braved the cold blasts of last night to be present.

HEILMAN AND LEONARD WANT $15,000 EACH

DETROIT, Feb. 17.—Harry Heilman, outfielder, and Hubert Leonard, pitcher, have refused to sign new contracts calling for $10,000 and $5000, respectively, and the Detroit club has declined to meet their request for $15,000 each, Frank J. Navin, president of the Tigers, announced last night. Heilman is champion batter of the American league.

Heilman retained his contract, which called for an advance of $2500, according to Navin, but wrote a letter asking for the additional $5000. Leonard, he said, returned his contract.

The Peddler

There was a young man with a dream to sell
(Or that is the story the neighbors will tell)
And he peddled his dream about the town—
But practical people all turned him down;
For a wise man knows, as he plots and schemes,
That it's silly to buy such stuff as dreams!

So the foolish young fellow went on his way,
Hoping to market his dream some day,
And the wise men called him a "silly fool!"
And treated his offer with ridicule;
And they cried "Begone! You're a ne'er-do-well,
With nothing at all but dreams to sell!"

Yet, after a while, the young man sold
His dream for riches and fame untold
And the "practical men" all muttered, then,
"Oh well, believe me—I knew him when!"
And they called him lucky, for who can tell
What dreams are worth, till at length they sell!

The peddler of dreams grew old and gray
When—a young man happened along his way
With a dream to sell; but the old man said
With a shake of his grizzled and wise old head,
"Begone! Begone with your silly schemes,
You've nothing at all to sell but dreams!"

In which the figures were the same as J. Hennessy, secretary of the association last year.

President Navin said he explained to Heilman that the club had made its best offer and that the value embodied in the new contract was in recognition of Heilman's work last year.

Navin added he was informing the pitcher that he considered his demand "an announcement of your retirement from baseball."

CASES TODAY IN THE DISTRICT COURT

In the regular session of district court today, Andrew Samaris appeared in answer to a charge of illegal keeping, as the result of a raid on his premises by Federal Officers Sheldon and Bowers and Sergeant Whinn of the liquor squad. At the time of the raid a large still, a quantity of moonshine and a great deal of distilling apparatus was seized, but Samaris was not arrested until later. Samaris pleaded guilty, and was fined $100 by Judge Boright.

Another case bearing on the larceny of coal in the railroad yards by boys was brought to the attention of the court this morning, when a woman was brought to trial for receiving stolen property. According to the testimony, several boys called at the woman's home and offered her a quantity of coal for 90 cents, which she purchased. She said that she thought it the cheapest way to secure fuel, as her husband was out of work and there are small children, the oldest four years of age. The railroad officers alleged that they went to the house with the boys, and she had admitted making the purchase, but had not paid the boys the 90 cents, promising to pay later on. The officers of the railroad recommended that the case be placed on file with the understanding that she would be more careful in the future, and the judge acquiesced, warning her of the serious nature of the offence.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Salts Before Eating
Breakfast

Grief and meat excite the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, acid, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys close you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the root of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble. Adv.

MRS. ZARY STOKES, 75, AND HER HUSBAND

In this state, is being sued by her husband for divorce. He's 80! Stokes charges his wife deserted him. She denies that. When the aged man failed to pay $5 a week alimony, as decreed by the judge, Mrs. Stokes called on the sheriff to jail him. "The sheriff did. 'I'll die in jail before I'll spend a cent,' the aged man is alleged to have declared. 'There's no account for women's doings.'"

GUILTY OF MURDER

Rev. Harding Hughes Given Life Sentence

WIDOW SECOND HERO

Lady Scott, widow of Captain R. F. Scott, who perished on a trip to the South Pole in 1913, is soon to marry Lieut. Com. Milton Young, a hero in the attempt to blank the German submarines at Zeebrugge in 1918. He is now financial secretary of the British Treasury. Lady Scott, a sculptor, is shown in her studio.

Coal Strike Probable

Aspects of the situation agree that the facts present a danger and a most serious one if the public continues unaware of the real state of affairs.

The fact that the existing wage agreements expire at the same time in both the anthracite and bituminous coal industries makes the situation more serious than otherwise might be. We feel that the general public should be forewarned, so that steps may be taken to assure an adequate coal supply during the period of possible shut-down.

The conflicting positions of the operator and the miners, as well as the nature and variety of the proposals to be considered, Mr. Cooney said, "make a settlement before April 1 extremely improbable."

After reviewing the demands of the United Mine Workers and of the operators the statement asserted that the production of bituminous coal had been rapidly increasing since Jan. 1, largely due to demands increased by strike rumors.

"Reports from dealers in important cities vary," Mr. Cooney said, "but on the whole, their stocks are adequate for the ordinary demands of a month to six weeks. Many consumers appear to be holding off to watch developments. This is true in New England, especially where mills are faced by local strikes."

POLICE DEPT. COMMENTED

A letter of commendation from the Police Dept. was received at the Police Shoe Co. this morning, congratulating and thanking the members of the department for the expedition with which the goods stolen from the factory last Saturday night had been traced and the parties responsible for the theft apprehended. Particular mention was made of the services of Officers Cooney and O'Neill.

"Moose" Johnson, Hockey's Most Colorful Player, Quits Game After an Eventful Career

C. Y. M. L. vs. Lowell Five—Textile to Play University of Vermont.

Indications point to a second turn-out and a hectic combat at the Crescent rink tonight, when the C.Y.M.I. and Lowell's Lowell five will meet in the fourth game of the series to decide the city's basketball championship.

The standing to date in C.Y.M.I. is two victories and Lowell Five one. A victory over the Crescent tonight means the title and the end of the series. A reverse will prolong the series.

Both teams are out to land the victory for the championship. That Lowell's Martin in the lineup, they cannot be beaten. The opposition team, with injured backs to the wall, are determined to win the C.Y.M.I. quintet and even up the series.

Manager Foley of the C.Y.M.I. will select his team from Foley, Martin, Randall, and Newcomb, adding that Lowell's C. Flynn. The Lowell Five will be picked from the following players: Winn, Ryan, Lew, Keenan, Desmond, Lemper, Descheneau, Richards and Taylor.

The game will start at 8 o'clock, with Jimmy Grant holding the whistle.

Festive vs. Vermont

The Lowell Festive Basketball team will play another hard game when it meets the University of Vermont team on the part of a man so confident of victory and although it went down before the U.V.M. lads in a game last week, has taken on a new lease of life after winning from Boston college.

Matthews and Smith will be in better shape for their contest tonight than they were last Tuesday. Smith's shoulder is coming back into shape and he will be ready for good work. It is probable that Matthews will meet him at the old place at guard and endeavor to outdo him for the forward berth as

The combination worked the best in the recent game.

The Vermonters have a fast aggregation of basketball chasers and will make the going very fast for the red and black suited team.

The Champlain American Legion basketball team added another victory yesterday night when it defeated the Woodford team in the town hall by a score of 26 to 18.

One of the most amateur basketball games of the season is promised for tonight when the Iroquois team will swap passes with the strong St. Anne's five in St. Anne's parish house. The Iroquois have a good team and have three years with great success. "Dicky" Edwards will be with the team tonight as will Kenneth Lynch of Washington, D. C. and a visiting team of relatives in the city. The Tripino would like to meet any aggregation in the city for a series to be played in the greatest rink. A representative of the team may be found at 438 Bridge street.

The St. Anne's basketball team is willing to accept the challenge of the St. Patrick's Junior Holy Name team. The St. Anne's manager says he will accept the challenge and the game will be held at 6 o'clock and will welcome any representative of the St. Patrick's five. He is anxious to arrange a bout two in three sets.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR TENNIS TEAM

St. John's Prep school is arranging a long schedule for its tennis team. Although the last two of last year's boys graduated and two others, Van Buren and Canning, who failed to return to school last fall, a successful season is expected. George Stadel, the captain of this year's Prep tennis team, will be one of the top scheduled players, and has full control of the singles in the October tournament. The opening match of the season is with Danvers High on May 3. Other teams already scheduled are Dexter, Boston English, Dorchester and Beverly. Matches are pending with four other schools. Tennis managers wishing to schedule contests should communicate with John Egan, Xavier hall St. John's Prep School, Danvers.

was pitching his last game in an intercollegiate series that showed a string of 26 victories. The youngsters did not know that the eyes of the big league magnate were upon him and he pitched the game of his life.

It was then in his 17th year, that Mack went wild over his work—selling him a contract that was enough to buy a youngster a heart of heating, and went to back east where Kniss had sufficiently recovered from the shock to affix his signature to a paper. The youngster looked so much a child when he stood at the stampering grounds of the Athletics

Mark decided to farm him out for a year to Harrisburg, in the Tri-State area. Krueger met the Tri-State farmer with his first lot of 23 pigs. There was 18 wins out of 23 games pitched and the good work lost him to Harrisburg forever.

Mack gathered him into the farm and worked off with 10 straight wins for the Athletics. Up to this game he had all the big league pitchers' windmills eating out of his hand. From record of his first loss game Krueger took holding the opponent pitcher of the big league from win to the close of the season.

He was easily the leading pitcher of the team.

Conno Mack declared him to be the greatest pitcher developed among the players of the Philadelphia club since Rube Waddell broke up his company. All of which is pretty far minutes From Broadway." Callahan accepted an invitation to the White Sox game and took two boxes for the players. Callahan was on his feet and waving his hand when he made his entrance. "I lost the game for Chicago." It was true. The players. When Cohan came on the stage and saw the boxes containing the players' boxes, he said: "I lost the game spoiled Callahan's game." ESCAPES FROM CELL

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Ignatius T. Lincoln, international spy, is now a man without a country. Erstwhile German spy, British clergyman, member of parliament, British censor, the arch conspirator in New York awaiting the action of the immigration authorities. He is charged with entering this country surreptitiously. If found guilty he will be deported.

"I don't know where they caught me," he said. "I've been expelled by almost every power. But I am not worrying. I'll find a way out. I always do."

Meanwhile he is writing the story of his life. "It sounds like fiction," he confessed. "But it is true. When finished it will keep other thrillers far in the shade." He laughed—considerably pleased with himself.

"I surely did make them step lively during the war. Sometimes it was the British; sometimes the Austrian. I didn't care much which. It was exciting for them, too. But their experiences never rivalled mine. They were on the wrong side of the game."

"But several times they got me. Trapped in Germany. In May, 1920, I was working for the German monarchists. I had to get into Berlin on a secret mission. A warrant was out for my arrest. I took the chance and was caught at the railroad station."

"I tried the usual method—bribery. But the secret service agent was young. He refused my advances. I was facing the prospect of 20 years in a German prison—possibly death."

"So I did some skilful talking. We stopped at a rest house. In a twinkling I jumped through a window, ran across the street with crowds at my heels and escaped. An hour later I was successfully hidden by friends."

"There is nothing as stimulating as playing politics in the big way. It is not much of an art here. But in Europe—"

"I knew all the leaders—the Kaiser, Lloyd George, Bethmann-Hollweg, Ludendorff. And they respected me, too."

"I started going when I was 15. I ran away from home, became an editor and studied theology. On graduation from a Montreal seminary, I joined the Church of England and became curate of a parish in Kent."

"But I soon tired of the work. It was too monotonous. I wanted to be on the inside of things. So I went into politics and was elected to parliament as a Liberal."

"With the war came the chance I had always wanted—to get mixed up in international affairs."

"Lincoln was appointed censor of Hungarian correspondence. His activities got him into trouble. He was reprimanded and forced to resign."

"I then went to Rotterdam," he continued. "I must have been shadowed. My visit was reported to the British war office and I had to skip to America."

Arrest and Escape
Here he wrote a series of revelations which led to his arrest. "Of course, I had worked for the Kaiser," said Lincoln. "and I didn't want to be sent back to England."

"So he escaped from the custody of the United States marshal. After a month he was found and sent to England where he was confined to prison until the end of the war."

"I asked the government to revoke my British citizenship," Lincoln said. "As I had formerly given up my allegiance to Austria-Hungary, I became a citizen of no country."

Guest in See Walker
He was then deported. He went to America to see the Kaiser. A few weeks later, he had a new cause. "I marched into Berlin at the head of the 'Kapp army,' he added with gusto. "I was out there in front of the procession of soldiers, generals and counter-revolutionists. But the revolt failed and I went to Budapest."

"He became involved in the sale of some secret documents to the Czechoslovakian government and was arrested for fraud."

"I took no three and a half months," Lincoln said smiling. "before I got out of the mess. But I was expelled. I went to Italy. There I did nothing. I wanted a change to get into some quieter business. So I came on here. And now—"

"I'm in trouble again!"

TAMMANY LEADER INDICTED
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—William F. Ken尼迪, Tammany district leader, was indicted yesterday with Robert L. Brindell, building trades labor leader, for extortion.

"They are alleged to have used their influence as officials of the building trades council to extort $3000 from St. Hyman, a building contractor for calling off a strike in February, 1920."

Brindell is serving the end of a Sing Sing sentence for a similar crime.

WOULD POSTPONE BONDS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A committee of disabled former service men and service men now patients at Walter Reed hospital, called on President Harding yesterday and asked for postponement of bond legislation until congress enacts legislation satisfying the disabled soldiers' demands as to insurance compensation.

GOV. COX TAKES REST
BOSTON, Feb. 17.—Gov. Chauncy H. Cox equipped with snowshoes and skis, left yesterday to spend a few days in the White Mountains of New Hampshire. Before leaving with Mrs. Cox the governor said he had been a guest at one or more meetings every evening since the first of the year and wanted rest and recreation. He will return next Tuesday.

HAS NINE GREAT-GREAT-GREAT GRANDCHILDREN

SADETHA, 9 Kan., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Bertha Perkins, who will be 93 years old next April, found a real thrill recently when three additional great-grandchildren arrived in three Sabathas homes, within a period of 48 hours. They brought the number of her descendants up to 274.

Mrs. Perkins' five generations of descendants are divided as follows: 10 children, eight of whom are living; 75 grandchildren; 155 great-grandchildren; 25 great-great-grandchildren; 9 great-great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Perkins was born in Virginia, April 25, 1829, married David Perkins in Ohio, March 16, 1843. Her maiden name was Bertha Marcum. In 1848 they emigrated to Iowa, and in 1857 took a homestead in this—Nemaha county—where she has lived ever since. Mr. Perkins died in 1893.

"Good and old-fashioned cooking," is the recipe Mrs. Perkins gives for her longevity. "It is no wonder people do not live to old age like they used to, considering the rich foods they put in their stomachs nowadays. People do not eat enough coarse food. Cornbread once or twice a day would improve their health."

Here are a few of her ideas as she expressed them: "I believe women should tell their husbands in voting right, but do not believe women should go into politics or vote."

"Cooking courses in schools and colleges run too much to induce and fancy dishes. I believe still that the best place for a girl to learn house-keeping and cooking is from her mother—but I am in doubt whether some of these modern day mothers know much about such things."

"Work is the best tonic. Why, I do something every day. In the summer time I take care of my vegetable garden. Last summer I raised so many vegetables I had them to pass around among the neighbors."

GIRLS! USE LEMONS TO WHITEN HANDS

Press the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White. Which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter-pint of harmless and delightful lemon-bleach lotion to soften and whiten red, rough or chapped hands. This home-made lemon lotion is far superior to glycerine and rose water to smoothen the skin. Famous stage beauties use it to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

TO ORGANIZE FRIENDS OF IRISH FREE STATE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—A movement to supplement the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic by a new organization to be known as the Friends of the Irish Free State was announced yesterday by Francis J. Lowe.

A printed circular said the movement will be organized in New York by ex-Gov. Martha A. Glynn; in New Jersey by Major Eugene Kinkead, and in Illinois by Timothy Healey.

Mr. Lowe said Edward L. Doherty, president of the Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic had joined the new organization as one of the rank and file.

Support of the provisional government and its officials, Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith, in setting up the Free State, will be the object of the new organization, according to Mr. Lowe.
